Meanderings

By Wash Fayette

Newspapers aren't the only business institutions which have typographical errors.

At the time of this writing, I've been looking out the window at the Fayette Theater marquee for two days—with some work between looks, of course.

And what do I see? A Tarzan picture is billed. The star's name, according to the billing is: "Johnny Weismuller."

Three women walked into Risch's drug store the other afternoon, and Dorothy Fyle—a WHS junior who works at the soda fountain—sized them up.

"Two of them are sodas," she predicted.

The trio went to the booths at the rear and sat down. Doty took their order.

When she returned, the attractive young brunette had a sheepish look on her face. "I was wrong," she announced. "They're sundaes."

The man pulled his car to a halt at the signal down the street from the office the other day. He saw a friend riding by on the back of a flatbed truck, and honked the car horn.

The friend looked up, a grin on his face. "It's an eight and a half pound boy," he yelled, as the truck sped on.

And that's the story of how a happy young daddy spread the news of his newly-acquired family.

Uncle Sam does not want promiscuous parking of autos on his lot back of the post office here, and after some persons had driven their autos into the lot and parked, while doing their shopping, the following sign appeared at the entrance to the lot:

"U. S. PROPERTY. NO PARKING."

Standard Oil Strike Won't Cut Supplies

CLEVELAND, July 8—(AP)—Some 1,100 members of the CIO Oil Workers Union quit today at four branches of the Standard Oil Co. in a wage dispute.

The walkout, called last night for 7 A. M., will be extended to two additional units later today, union officials said.

Affected by the initial stoppage were the company's No. 1 and 2 refineries, Canfield Oil Plant No. 1 and Lithograph Can Factory, all in Cleveland.

A statement that "Ohio motorists need have no immediate worry over their supply of Sohio gasoline," was delivered by E. B. McConnell, Sohio vice president in charge of manufacturing. He added that adequate supplies were on hand to meet demands for some time.

Flower contended that Sohio refused retroactive wage increase terms, despite a grant of boosts to non-union company employees effective April 1. The union official reported the company's last offer was three to 12 cents an hour less than the average of similar jobs in the Lake Erie area.

Sandusky Cigar Store Is Fined for Gambling

TIFFIN, July 8—(AP)—Sam Spino, 35, of Sandusky, operator of a cigar store here, was fined $1,500 yesterday on gambling charges. He pleaded guilty to nine counts charging he permitted card games, a numbers game, racing book slips and baseball pool tickets in his store.

Civil Rights Program Now Facing Democrats

Platform Makers Face Delicate Problem Along with Demand for 'Roosevelt Policies'

By MAX HALL

PHILADELPHIA, July 8—(AP)—Outright endorsement of President Truman's civil rights program was demanded at Democratic platform hearings today.

More than a score of Negro organizations called for a plank embodying Mr. Truman's program, including anti-lynch, anti-poll tax and fair employment (FEPC) legislation.

One organization, the National Negro Council, asked the platform writers to endorse an immediate call of the 80th Congress into special session to enact civil rights legislation.

Before flareup of the race issue which has rifted the Democratic party, the Congress of industrial organizations called for adoption of a "Roosevelt platform" and denounced the Republican platform as "one of deceit."

James B. Carey, CIO secretary-treasurer, also asked for civil rights, demanded repeal of the Taft-Hartley act and extension of "New Deal" social laws. Responding to a platform committee member's question, Carey stated: "There is nothing in the Republican platform that attracts the interest of labor."

The labor organization came forward with a hard-pounding demand for a "Roosevelt platform." CIO Secretary Carey, a little man with a mop of curly hair, urged in his deep voice that the Democrats pledge:

1. Federal laws against lynching, poll taxes, discrimination in employment, and racial separation in the armed services.
2. Repeal of the Taft-Hartley labor law.
3. Public housing; price controls; health insurance; greater social security; higher minimum wages; federal aid to education; an excessive profits tax, and other measures.

Yesterday, the platform drafting committee gave Morris Sayre, president of the National Association of Manufacturers (NAM), a rough afternoon indeed.

Sayre presented the identical program he had offered the Republican platform committee last month. The Republicans did not ask him a single question. Yesterday the Democrats bounced questions and criticisms at him for nearly two hours.

Senator Theodore Green of Rhode Island told Sayre: "You were hoping, I suppose, that the Democrats would adopt your program and lose the campaign in consequence."

Berlin Blockage Growing Serious

Threat of Hunger Is Increasing In Spite of Food Sent In by Planes

By EDWIN SHANKE

BERLIN, July 8—(AP)—The Russians' economic strangulation of western Berlin today forced drastic new cuts in the use of electricity and gas.

Unemployment grew among the 2,000,000 Germans in the blockaded American, British and French sectors of the city. The Western Allies were working off the streets. An unemployment assistance plan giving workers between 50 and 60 percent of their normal wages was introduced.

Col. Frank L. Howley, the American commandant, announced that the Western Powers had decided to maintain the present food rations but to cut coal. He said:

"To meet the emergency, to save 2,000,000 Berliners from starvation as well as economic and social destruction, the United States, British and French military governments are engaged in the greatest air lift in peacetime history. Thousands of tons of food, fuel and medicine are being flown from the west to Berlin."

Airlane Troubles

Unfavorable weather slowed the Allied airlift this morning. By 10 A. M. only 19 American transport planes had arrived at Tempelhof airport.

American fliers heard complaints from two of their comrades of strange radio interference. (Please Turn to Page Ten)

Teachers Irked By Gov. Dewey

Showdown Avoided On Rebuke, However

By RICHARD H. SMITH

CLEVELAND, July 8—(AP)—The representative assembly of the National Education Association decided today not to take Gov. Thomas E. Dewey to task on the floor, and left to its executive committee further investigation of reports Dewey made anti-teacher remarks to other governors.

By voice and standing votes, of about eight to one, 2,700 voting delegates from every state and territory thus dodged what has been the hottest issue of their 86th annual convention, which opened here Monday.

The motion to refer the Dewey controversy to the executive committee was made by Archer L. Burnham of Lincoln, Neb., executive secretary of his state association.

The delegation from the Republican presidential nominee's own state of New York was especially upset and injured by his failure to answer their request that he clarify his views for some 3,500 educators meeting here in the 86th annual National Education Association convention.

John A. Cullen of Mount Vernon, N. Y., new state director and a teacher of aviation mechanics, said:

"This is a slap in the face to the teachers, especially in New York. We sent him a decently worded note asking his side. We didn't condemn him in public. All we want to do is to hear what Mr. Dewey has to say about this."

By "this," Cullen meant statements which columnist Drew Pearson said Dewey made last month at a governor's conference in Portsmouth, N. H.

The Pearson column, read in a general session yesterday, reported Dewey tried in vain to get other governors to fight the teachers' lobby with a $50,000 publicity campaign. The column said further that Dewey described teachers' propaganda for pay raises as "the biggest lie since Adolf Hitler."

"I'm not trying to start a new church. We've got too many now," Anderson, who is 64, operates a little hotel and dabbles in real estate. He came here many years ago from Gloucester, Mass., and described himself as a New England Congregationalist. He taught a Bible class at nearby Shady-side Methodist Church until "about seven or eight years ago when a new minister came here."

His challenge had no immediate takers.

His proof that there is no Devil? "Wait," said Anderson, "until the debate."

Ferguson Wins Phone Battle

COLUMBUS, July 8—(AP)—State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson claimed victory today in the battle of the switchboard.

The only elected Democrat in the State House announced that a direct telephone line between Ohio Republican headquarters, 17 North High St., and the State Office Building switchboard has been disconnected.

Ferguson said he learned the line was taken out "about a month ago" on orders of state GOP Chairman Fred Johnson.

"No comment," said Johnson when asked what caused disconnection of the line. It had been in since February of 1947.

Auditor Ferguson said he was releasing immediately $33,712 to Ohio Bell Telephone Co., for service at the office building switchboard since April 1. He stopped payments on all office building extensions when he first learned about the direct line, and insisted he would not pay the bills until the line was disconnected.

Ex-Gen. Meyers Linked With New War Gouge

Former Officer To Be Called from Prison To Testify on Freight Bill Hike Charge

By ROGER D. GREENE

WASHINGTON, July 8—(AP)—Bennett E. Meyers, the retired two-star general sent to prison by one congressional quiz session, is due for another.

This one deals with charges of a multi-million-dollar "gouge" of the government through World War II freight bills.

Chairman Bender (R-Ohio) of a House expenditures subcommittee investigating the freight rate matter told a reported today he will subpoena Meyers from his District of Columbia jail cell before the summer is out.

Meyers was sentenced to from 20 months to five years in prison last winter after his conviction on charges of inducing a former business associate to lie to senators inquiring into his handling of war contracts. The general became deputy purchasing officer for the army air forces after a tour of duty at Patterson Field.

His name entered the current hearings in testimony by Thomas F. Proctor, a former Justice Department official now employed by the post office department.

Referring to the period just ahead of that covered by the Senate war investigating committee in its hearings last summer, Proctor told the Bender group yesterday:

"As long as General Benny Meyers was running the air forces materiel command at Patterson Field, the army transportation corps and the air forces traffic people in Washington were relegated to a position of secondary importance in traffic matters."

"This committee could very well direct itself to an investigation into the so-called service contracts which General Meyers negotiated with the oil companies on aviation gasoline during the war."

Proctor did not elaborate, but he told the committee: "I can assure you the revelations would be most interesting and pertinent to the current inquiry."

Factory Closed; Wages too High

NEWARK, July 8—(AP)—The Pharis Tire & Rubber Company, which has been shut down since May 1, will remain closed indefinitely, President Furber Marshall said today.

Its board of directors will meet July 15 in New York to consider the future course of the company, which normally employs approximately 1300 persons.

"We simply can not compete with the sort of labor contract we had," Marshall explained. "It was costing us more to make tires than we could get for them."

The management has been trying since before May 1 to induce the United Rubber Workers (CIO) the plant union, to accept a new average wage rate of $1.62 an hour, as compared with the former $1.74 average.

Attack Launched By Arabs Before Truce Deadline

U. S. Ships Stand By To Take UN Staff Members to Safety

By MAX BOYD

CAIRO, July 8—(AP)—Israel's high command announced today that Egyptian forces opened an offensive south of Tel Aviv in the waning hours of the Palestine truce.

Count Folke Bernadotte, United Nations mediator, said at Rhodes that the Arabs rejected his plea to extend the four-week truce, although the Jews had accepted the proposal.

UN EMERGENCY LAKE SUCCESS, July 8—(AP)—The United Nations security council was called into emergency session on the Palestine crisis today.

Renewed Arab-Jewish war on a full scale was expected tomorrow. The Jewish high command said the Egyptians already were throwing air, artillery and armored car attacks at Beer Tuvia, 23 miles south of the Jewish capital.

"The war is on," a Jewish spokesman said.

Bernadotte announced that the Arabs apparently turned down even a three-day extension, but "all necessary steps are being taken immediately for safe evacuation of United Nations observers, personnel and their equipment."

The United States, France and Belgium each have 21 military observers in the Holy Land, supervised by a small staff of Swedish officers. In addition the United Nations recently sent about 50 armed guards to aid in the truce job, along with communications and staff personnel.

U. S. Ships Stand By

The U. S. naval carrier Palau arrived at Haifa Bay to remove personnel and equipment. Three American destroyers, the Putnam, the Henley and the Owen, are standing by at Haifa, subject to U. N. orders.

Bernadotte asked both Jews and Arabs to withhold military action in Haifa and Beirut, Lebanon, until the end of the U. N. evacuation operations.

The U. N. secretariat and guards, mostly Americans, will leave Haifa by air for Beirut today and the American observers will fly home from Beirut on American planes.

Belgium and French observers are leaving the Palestine posts today and tomorrow.

A small party of U. N. field observers may remain in Jerusalem, pending possible developments in the Bernadotte proposal to demilitarize the Holy City, Haifa dispatches said.

Next Peace Moves

Bernadotte said "I will now concentrate my efforts during the next few days on obtaining a cease fire in Jerusalem and its ultimate demilitarization. I will do my utmost to save Jerusalem and holy places from further destruction."

Meanwhile, Bernadotte will continue working "with a view to attaining at the earliest possible day the peaceful adjustment of the future situation in Palestine."

The Jews, he said, indicated willingness to accept a temporary (Please Turn to Page Two)

Bear Carries Off Girl in Michigan

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., July 8—(AP)—A black bear lumbered out of Michigan's north woods yesterday, carried off the little daughter of a forest ranger and left her mangled body beside a forest stream.

Minutes after the body of three-year-old Carol Ann Pomrankey was found a quarter-mile from her parents' isolated cabin, an angered posse shot and killed the animal.

The searching party had been frantically called by Carol Ann's mother, 28-year-old Mrs. Arthur Pomrankey, who saw the bear carry off her daughter. Another child, six-year-old Allen, was playing in the cellar.

The scene of the strange tragedy was the Pomrankeys' lonely cabin at the Mission Hill fire tower in the Marquette National Forest, 30 miles northwest of here. Pomrankey is a towerman at Mission Hill.

Carol Ann was playing on the back porch of the cabin, which is situated on a knoll. At about 3 P. M. Mrs. Pomrankey heard a scream and looked out the kitchen window to see the bear disappearing over the knoll dragging Carol by the neck.

She tried chasing the bear with a broom and then ran into the house for a pistol. When she failed she called her husband, who was at National Forest headquarters.

Pomrankey and his associates immediately broadcast a radio appeal for help which was relayed by commercial stations. In a short time a posse of almost 100 men was formed in the isolated area and the hunt began. At 4:30 P. M. the body was found, a quarter of a mile from the cabin, lying in dense underbrush. Officers said the little girl apparently died instantly when the hunger-crazed bear seized her by the neck.

Three Delegates To Convention Named by Lions

Directors Give OK
To $50 Appropriation
For the Boy Scouts

Three delegates to the Lions Club international convention in New York City late this month were named Wednesday evening by the board of directors of the Washington C. H. Lions Club.

Selected to represent the club were Robert Terhune, Wayne Woodyard and Don Scholl.

Terhune is immediate past president of the club and now holds an office in the district Lions organization.

Twelve members attended the directors' meeting, the first to be presided over by President Don Gibson, in the Chamber of Commerce office.

The directors voted an appropriation of $50 to the Boy Scouts. The directors officially appointed members of committees for the coming year. A tentative list previously had been announced at a club meeting.

Other business included a discussion of activities for the coming year and furthering of the eyeglass program which has been carried on actively by the club.

Preceding the official meeting was a steak dinner in the Rendezvous Room of the Fayette Hotel.

Present at the meeting were President Gibson, Terhune, Ambrose Elliott, Walter Rettig, Howard Wright, C. L. Musser, Ray Warner, Frank Lentz, Norris Highfield, A. E. Weatherly, Gene McLean and Richard Rankin.

Stackhouse Resigns From Sabina Council

Sabina village today was short one councilman.

Walter Stackhouse submitted his resignation from Council at the regular meeting. Family health was given as his reason.

The former councilman intends to leave for Florida about the middle of July, according to Councilman Robert Nunn.

Plans for rebuilding the old opera house were discussed and it was announced that bonds probably will be advertised within the next ten days for the boulevard lighting bonds.

The opera house proposals involve remodeling the structure into a one-story building.

Mrs. Luella Chapman Funeral Services Held

Well-attended funeral services for Mrs. Luella M. Chapman were held at 2 P. M. Wednesday at the Kiever Funeral Home and were conducted by Rev. W. A. Ervin of New Holland Methodist Church.

Rev. Ervin read the scripture, offered prayer, delivered the sermon, read a memoir, read two hymns, "Jesus, Savior, Pilot Me" and "Lead Kindly Light," and two poems, "There Is No Death" and "The Watcher."

Many flowers filled the funeral home for the services.

Burial was in the family lot in Washington Cemetery. Pallbearers were Joe and John Louis, Carvel Echar, Robert and Carroll Flee and John Klappert.

Members of Eastern Star held ritualistic services at the funeral home Tuesday evening.

The 30,000-ton onetime grand dame of the United States fleet—survivor of two wars and two Bikini atomic blasts—went down at 2:30 P. M. after eight hours of air attack and light shelling.

Rear Adm. Marshall R. Greer, task force commander, explained: "When you get somebody off balance, you don't have to push very hard."

The experts had figured it would take torpedoes to finish the radioactive old battleship today. Another battleship, the Nevada—target ship to the Bikini test fleet—will provide the navy another opportunity to test the "bat" bomb. She is slated to be sunk later this month.

in the air corridor to Berlin. There were unconfirmed reports that Soviet Marshal Vassily D. Sokolovsky had gone to Moscow for consultations, presumably regarding an answer to the Western Allies' protest over the Russian blockade.

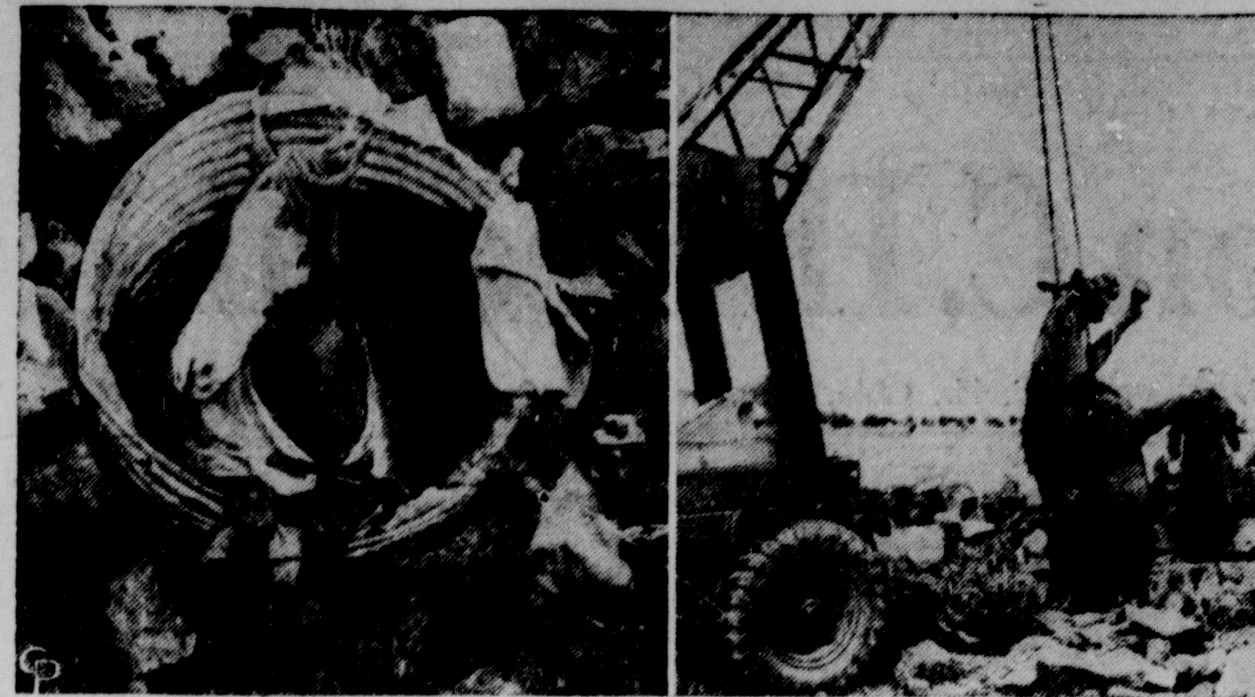

Howley, in a statement to the Berliners, asked the people to "bear in mind that freedom and democracy always have been purchased only by struggle and suffering." He said he believed they would "measure up to the role which history has given you" to prove that real German democracy is being born in western Berlin.

U. S. officials estimated the public utilities in the western sectors normally use a minimum of 5,000 tons of coal daily. The U. S. Air Force flew in 210 tons yesterday when it began "flying coalman" operations, but these flights were expected to be stepped up.

A British transport pilot reported sighting five Russian Yak fighters.

The Nation Today

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
The battle of Berlin between Russia and the western allies—the pivotal engagement of the cold war—is moving sharply toward a show-down.

The blunt demand made by America, Britain and France that the Reds immediately lift the food blockade against the civilian population of western Berlin is calculated to bring things to a head. This blockade of course represents a savage attempt to force the democracies to evacuate the city by torturing the German people. Having got the western allies out of the way, the Bolsheviks could form a separate state in eastern Germany, with Berlin as its capital.

Washington, London and Paris struck simultaneously but separately, and for the first time directed their demand to Moscow rather than to the Soviet authorities in Germany. They have called Stalin's hand, and at a time when the Iron Curtain is showing considerable wear and tear at vital points like Yugoslavia, Finland and Czechoslovakia.

Equally impressive was the announcement in Washington that the ambassadors of Canada and five western European nations had been called into conference with Undersecretary of State Lovett. The five Europeans are Britain, France, The Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg, which recently formed an alliance. These conversations will have to do with possible American military support for the western European bloc.

This is the first time that Canada has been brought into discussions between the bloc and Washington, but her inclusion is a natural one since her defensive interests interlock with those of the United States and Britain. Solidarity between Canada and America is vital to the well-being of the western hemisphere.

Whatever official attitude may be taken by Moscow towards the demand from the democracies that the Berlin blockade be lifted, there can be small doubt that the general European situation provides an anxious moment for the Muscovites. The defiance and dislike being registered by the three satellite states comes from countries which are strategic points in Russia's battle front through Europe. Finland and Yugoslavia are the anchors for the northern and southern wings respectively. Czechoslovakia was designed by the Reds to be the strong point of the center.

These signs of weakness developing in the Bolshevik battle-line certainly don't lend strength to the Russian campaign against the western allies in Germany. When the battle line still seemed unimpaired it was quite clear that Moscow was prepared to force the issue against the western powers by all means short of actual gunfire. Russia hasn't wanted war, but in order to further her Red revolution in Europe she has been

Same Officers Are Elected By Organ Club

Plans For Virgil Fox Recital November 4 Are Made

At a meeting of the Washington C. H. Organ Club, held at the home of Miss Marian Christopher, Wednesday night, the same officers were re-elected for the year beginning September 1, as follows:

President, Mrs. John P. Case; dean, Clarence Bager; vice-president, Miss Marian Christopher; secretary-treasurer, Miss Donna Smith. The selections were made by unanimous vote.

At the same meeting plans were discussed for the Virgil Fox organ recital to be given at the High School Auditorium Thursday night, Nov. 4, under auspices of the organ club.

It was decided that the price of tickets would be $1 for adults and 50 cents for students, to hear this eminent organist who has been attracting widespread attention by his extraordinary work.

The gifted organist appeared here once before and by reason of his exceptional playing demands for his return have been many, and when he appears here, residents of this part of Ohio will be assured of hearing one of the best organists in the nation.

In addition to electing officers and planning for the Fox recital, the club discussed plans for the next series of recitals to be given under auspices of the club at the various churches next fall and winter.

Hauling Much Hay To Nearby States

Already trucks from Kentucky and West Virginia are moving large quantities of newly baled hay from the farms in Fayette County to various places in the two states, some for feeding livestock in the bluegrass area of Kentucky, and other for dairy herds and mules in the mountain areas of West Virginia.

A great deal of the hay was baled in the field by pick-up balers, and some of this was moved direct to the two states while most of it was stored and part of it will be hauled out of the state later.

Willing to take many risks in an effort to browbeat the democracies.

The allied notes calling for an end to the food blockade should force the Soviet to disclose whether it has carried its challenge as far as seems smart at this juncture.

Comic Books To Aid in Drive For Safety on Ohio Highways

Your favorite comic strip characters will soon be reminding Ohio motorists that "It's Fun to Stay Alive."

Some of America's most famous comic page characters are going to co-operate with Ohio's automobile dealers, helping to save lives through a unique comic book devoted entirely to traffic safety.

Ray Brandenburg, Washington C. H. automobile dealer and president of the Ohio Automobile Dealers Association, said that his group believes the book will be effective in developing safety precautions—especially on the part of boys and girls.

The books, to be distributed at county fairs, in auto show rooms, in schools and by school patrol boys, will remind adults of the need for driving skills. Hazards of street play, street crossing and bicycle riding are also shown.

Governor Thomas J. Herbert, honorary chairman of the Ohio Traffic Safety Council, says the comic book "is really an amazing publication. Ohio's automobile and truck dealers, and the artists who contributed, are to be commended for developing this common sense and refreshing approach to traffic safety."

Brandenburg said that the idea of using comic strip characters to promote safety originated in the OADA and eventually books of the same type will be distributed on a nation-wide basis. "The national association has already asked for copies, as have the associations in many other states," Brandenburg said.

Distribution in Fayette County is expected to begin at the Fayette County Fair, which starts July 27. The books will be available in the automobile dealers' tent.

British Honduras is smaller than Vermont.

Eber Clubs Have Combined Meeting

The eleventh meeting of the Happy Cooking Sisters was held in the Eber School Tuesday night. The meeting was combined with that of the Eber Sewing Club.

The presidents of the two clubs, Phyllis Wright and Betty Roberts, presided during the business meeting, and membership books were filled out. The advisers, Mrs. Floyd Roberts and Mrs. Marie Alexander, assisted the members.

Health demonstrations were given by Alea Massie, Betty Roberts and Eula Cox. Phyllis Wright gave a demonstration on sanitation and Ludea Torbett demonstrated safety. A light lunch was served by the advisers following the demonstrations.

Other members present for the meeting were Marilyn Parrett, Barbara Wright, Sylvia Cox, Mary Wright, Margaret and Gaylene Wright.

The next meeting of the club

Cincinnati Wins 1948 Crow Shooting Contest In Nation

Fayette County crow shooters will be interested in learning that a new crow shooting champion, Eddie Mergard, 1322 E. McMillan Street, Cincinnati, has been crowned crow shooting king of the United States for 1948 winning over 50 other entrants at the championship event last week at Williams-town, Kentucky.

Mergard has sought the top honors for several years and was runner-up both in 1946 and 1947.

The tenth annual competition was sponsored by the American Crow Hunters' Association under the auspices of the Fifth District Federation of Kentucky Sportsmen. Nine states were represented.

The American Crow Hunters Association has been the overall conductors of each national shoot for 10 years and although the original purpose was to create a consciousness among sportsmen for crow shooting, it has never advocated massacre or wanton destruction of the black menace of wildlife but rather has promoted crow control, through the media of skillful shooting and scientific crow calling.

At the annual meeting of the American Crow Hunters Association following the championship shoot, Dr. Blaine I. Talbut, Whitehouse, was re-elected president; Don Mack, Delaware, first vice-president and John E. Murphy, Park Hills, Kentucky, second vice-president. Leo M. Fox, Toledo, was re-elected secretary and Thomas Silvers, Ludlow, Kentucky, treasurer.

There are more hoofed animals in America now than when the buffalo roamed.

Mrs. Boylan Is Hostess At Two Lovely Parties

Mrs. William A. Boylan graciously extended the hospitality of her home on Wednesday when she entertained with a one o'clock bridge luncheon and a dinner bridge at six thirty in the evening.

Bouquets of red rose buds and blue delphinium and arrangements of painted daisies with baby's breath were admired throughout the rooms and the beautifully appointed tables seating the guests were tastefully centered with floating arrangements of painted daisies, fever few and baby's breath, which carried out a dainty pastel color scheme, for the serving of the delicious two course repasts, both at noon and in the evening.

Four tables of guests progressed merrily at each party in the congenial game and the identical awards beautifully wrapped were presented at the close of the afternoon to Mrs. Martin A. Hughey who was the holder of high score, and Mrs. H. Vernon Scott received second.

The winners of the trophies in the evening game were Mrs. Emily Coberly, who was awarded first prize and Miss Mary Barnes received second.

Mrs. Edwin White of Clinton, Iowa, was a guest at both parties, and other out of town guests in the afternoon were Mrs. H. Vernon Scott of Chicago, Ill., Mrs. J. K. Kaufmann, Miss Anna Marti and Mrs. Louis Scheppele of Dubuque, Iowa, and Mrs. Wilbur Gillespie of New Holland, and in the evening Mrs. John Cross of Delray Beach, Florida, and Mrs. Delbert S. Mann of St. Louis, Missouri.

Informal Dinner Is Given By The Rodenfels

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rodenfels, were host and hostess on Wednesday evening for a small informal dinner at the Washington Country Club.

The guests were seated at one table at seven o'clock for the delicious meal, which was beautifully appointed and was centered with a low arrangement of shasta daisies and fern.

Mr. and Mrs. Rodenfels entertained their guests at their home for the remainder of the evening, where they enjoyed visiting.

Those included as guests were Judge and Mrs. William Radcliff and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith of Williamsport.

Mrs. Parrett Entertains Kensington Club

Mrs. Charles H. Parrett was hostess to the members of the Bloomingburg Kensington Club, when 15 members and two guests Miss Hazel Engle, and Cadet Jerry Bush, assembled at her home for the regular July meeting.

A patriotic color scheme was used throughout the rooms, and the mantel in the living room was draped with a large American flag, with smaller flags arranged in fan shape above and a basket of red, white and blue flowers completing a perfect background. Mrs. Parrett was assisted in the hospitalities by Mrs. Sarepta Short and Mrs. Emma Swiss. The meeting opened with the group singing, "What A Friend We Have in Jesus," and the president Mrs. Parrett followed with the devotional period, during which she read the 91st Psalm.

She was assisted by her grandson Jerry Bush, who gave a beautiful prayer and the members joined him in repeating the Lord's Prayer to close this impressive period. Following the short business meeting the program was opened by Jerry Bush, who repeated the 23rd Psalm.

Mrs. Eva Kelley very interestingly gave the history of three favorite American patriotic songs, "America," "Star Spangled Banner," and "The Battle Hymn Of The Republic."

Miss Engle preceded the resume with the playing of strains of each on the organ.

"The History Of The Flag" was given by Mrs. Lucille Creath, and an original poem "The Old Organ," was composed and read by Mrs. Parrett, and the two hymns "Blest Be The Tie" and "Beautiful Garden Of Prayer" which were mentioned in the lovely poem, were played on the organ softly by Miss Engle, with Mrs. Arthur Engle taking the solo parts.

"The Creed of A Good American" was read by Mrs. Ethel Andrews, and "Forth of July Incidents About Our Presidents" was read by Mrs. Bertha Porter.

"A Patriotic Short," was read by Mrs. Emma Swiss.

"Fortpaths To Peace" by Mrs. Creath and the repeating of the club benediction closed the extremely interesting program program.

During the social hour the hostess and her assistants served a delectable collation cleverly carrying out the patriotic theme and featured miniature American flags on each plate.

day after a visit at the home of Mr. William M. Campbell, leaving Mrs. Otis, daughters Victoria and Elizabeth and son Johnny, and Mr. Weaver's daughter Miss Betty Weaver for a longer visit.

Mrs. Glenn Anderson of Chicago, Ill., who was called here by the death of her grandmother, Mrs. Luella Chapman, is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Anderson and family.

Luncheon Precedes Missionary Meeting

The Women's Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church was entertained at the home of Mrs. John Case for the annual one o'clock luncheon on Wednesday.

Mrs. Case was assisted in the gracious hospitalities by Mrs. L. C. Coffman and Mrs. Anna DeWeese. The 30 members present found their places at beautifully appointed small tables centered with arrangements of garden flowers for the tempting luncheon, during which they lingered for a period of informal visiting.

Mrs. Thomas Cullen president later conducted a short business meeting, and the usual reports were heard and accepted.

40 calls were reported made during the past month on shut-ins, and the president requested that each member read the book of James during the month of July.

Devotional Chairman Mrs. W. H. Wilson, gave an impressive talk on "How To Have A Relaxed Mind and Soul." She also read a poem titled "When I Walk With God," and closed this period with prayer. Mrs. F. T. McCarty program chairman called on the delegates who attended the Granville House party, to give a resume of the meeting. Mrs. Otto Reno and Mrs. Walter McLean also gave reports on the all day Missionary meeting they attended in Greenfield recently.

The reports were all interesting and inspiring to the members.

Mrs. McCarty closed the meeting by leading in the group singing of "God Be With You Till We Meet Again."

Garden Club Holds Regular Meeting

The regular monthly meeting of the Twin Oaks Garden Club was held on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Harold Bonecutter, with Mrs. Virgil Garinger as hostess. The rooms were decorated throughout with summer flowers for the occasion.

Mrs. Jesse Linton, president, opened the meeting by asking Mrs. Thomas Braden to read the secretary's report in the absence of Mrs. Wilbur Hoppes.

Names of prospective members were submitted and are to be voted on at the next meeting.

Mrs. Paul Pope nominating committee chairman, read the names of officers for the coming year, who are: Mrs. Thomas Braden, president, Mrs. Virgil Garinger, vice president, Mrs. Harold Bonecutter secretary-treasurer.

Officers and program chairman decided to attend a meeting at the Trinity Methodist Church in Chillicothe Thursday afternoon.

The meeting was closed with the repeating of the Lord's Prayer. Mrs. Glenn Smith gave a very interesting demonstration and made a number of beautiful corsages from flowers from her own garden and later presented them to the members.

Mrs. Garinger served a delicious refreshment course during the social hour at one large table centered with a beautiful arrangement of mixed summer flowers. The August meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Jesse Linton.

America's Greatest Field Chief Omar N. Bradley, Is War Hater

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK —(P)—The cry toward war gets louder. It goes into the bars, it reaches into the homes. It comes down on the elected heads of the people, and it reaches into the hearts of the men who may have to lead the American nation in the next war—if it comes.

One who considers it with no enthusiasm is the man whose orders cost more American lives in the Second World War than any other commander.

His name is Gen. Omar Nelson Bradley, the army's chief of staff. He is a tall, gaunt, homely man from Missouri—the state that produced "Blackjack" Pershing—who hates war more than any professional soldier I ever knew.

General Bradley, who threw a baseball farther than any man who ever went to West Point, was the architect of victory in the field in Europe during the second World War but didn't get overseas during the first fracas.

He once said he had spent the intervening period explaining why he hadn't. And when he was asked how he could order hundreds of thousands of soldiers to undertake missions that might mean their deaths, he replied soberly: "I spent 30 years of my life preparing for this."

It was said in complete honesty and sincerity—as is typical with General Bradley.

From El Guettar in Africa to the River Elbe in Germany no field commander had more to do with the allied triumph than Bradley. He was Eisenhower's right hand and his stainless instrument of victory.

General Bradley commanded more fighting troops overseas than any other man in American history. He was a kind of gentle but firm wedding of U. S. Grant and Robert E. Lee.

He was perhaps even more a military Abraham Lincoln, able to weld a selfless devotion to his duty as he saw it to a stubborn certainty that he would win his aims. He never lost.

And his chief weapon was character. That was and remains his finest armor.

One test of a commander is the loyalty he stirs in the men around him. In General Bradley's case it was never the blind adoration given to an insistent leader. It came completely from the heart.

It comes—years after Tunisia, Sicily and Normandy—from my heart. Of all the men I met in years of trooping with the colors in combat, I can say with an admiration beyond any I have given to another man, dead or alive: "Omar Nelson Bradley, to the best of my ability to judge men, is the finest man, in war or peace, I have met in my time."

It would be superfluous to say I would risk my life for him—because so many have done that already. And I was lucky and still have mine. And so many who weren't lucky lost theirs. But I would still go with him anywhere.

There he is, a simple, unassuming man who detests war more than any mother who lost a son. Because he lost a lot of friends, and a lot of boys he regarded almost as sons.

He thinks we've got to lean to a world agency to rid the universe of war. But if it comes again in our time, I can't conceive of a sounder, safer, more considerate—and yet more adventurous leader—than General Bradley.

I don't know a man who knows war better or likes peace more. He gave the orders once. He doesn't want to give them again.

Jimmy Durante's brand of humor seems to be winning over Peter Lawford's brand of romancing in this scene with Esther Williams from "On An Island With You," M-G-M's latest Technicolor musical, which plays Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Fayette Theater. Ricardo Montalban and Cyd Charisse, the dancing sensations of "Fiesta," and Xavier Cugat and his orchestra are other attractions in this big-time musical.

File of FBI Fingerprints Has Grown to Amazing Size

WASHINGTON —(P)—The FBI's identification division today celebrated its 24th birthday by noting some staggering statistics on the fingerprints it has collected during its lifetime.

The division now has more than 109,000,000 sets of fingerprints cards in its files.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover commented that these cards would make 163 separate stacks each as high as the 555-foot Washington Monument, or, placed edge to edge, would extend halfway around the world—with enough left over to form a path from Boston to Miami.

The nucleus of the collection was 810,188 arrest records obtained from the International Association of Chiefs of Police and from Leavenworth penitentiary when the identification division was established July 1, 1924.

The FBI noted that the files

"perform many valuable social services" other than law enforcement work.

Hoover said that 21 of the victims of the airliner crash near Mount Carmel, Pa., on June 17 were identified through fingerprint impressions on file with the FBI. Nine had prints in the records in connection with military service; six had been applicants for employment in national defense industries or civil service. One had been fingerprinted as an airline employee. In two cases, the identifications were made with fingerprint cards submitted by local police in connection with applications for pistol and driver's permits.

Hilty Invited To Join in Panel At Convention

Superintendent Not Sure Whether He'll Be Able to Attend

William J. Hilty, Fayette County superintendent of schools, has been invited to participate in the program of the third national conference of county and rural area superintendents in Milwaukee later this year.

Hilty said, however, that he doesn't know now whether he will be able to accept since it is not certain whether he will attend the convention.

The superintendent, whose district includes all rural schools of Fayette County, has been asked to serve as a "resource person" for a discussion group at the conference.

The panel will cover the county superintendent's work with people.

Hilty's invitation was extended by W. A. Early, chairman of the planning committee, and Lois M. Clark, assistant director of rural service for the division of county and rural district superintendents of the Department of Rural Education, National Educational Association.

The program in the Wisconsin city will take place September 30 to October 2. As in past years, the work of the conference will be carried on partly in small group discussions.

Hilty's portion of the program would be held October 1.

It will be devoted to discovering, releasing and channeling human resources.

Subtopics suggested by the planning committee include attracting and retaining well-trained, competent teachers; developing the superintendent's staff to provide supervisory and other specialized services; leadership with lay persons in developing a broad educational program and planning and working with children and younger people.

Board Finds In Favor of Jobless Woman

A woman who lost her job because she joined a union was held to have been discharged without just cause and therefore eligible for unemployment benefits in a unanimous decision of the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation's Board of Review.

The board found that the woman, a dancing instructor, had not only been considered a good instructor by her employer but had actually received considerable publicity to that effect.

Jimmy Wakely is the center of interest in "Partners in the Sun-set," which opens its run Sunday at the Palace Theater. The second feature is Joe Palooka in "Fighting Mad."

Evidence showed that the woman's employer had been hostile to the formation of a union among his employees and had actually informed her that these employees who joined a union would be discharged. When the union was formed, the woman and several other dancing instructors were fired after becoming members.

In coming to its decision, the board stated that "taking all evidence into consideration, it is found that claimant was discharged from her employment . . . without just cause connected with her work." The woman was declared eligible to draw the

Medical Schools Are Inadequate

Young Men Blocked From Ambitions

COLUMBUS, —(P)—Ohio has plenty of young men who aspire to be doctors, but inadequate facilities to teach them is causing concern to Dr. Charles A. Doan, dean of Ohio State University's College of Medicine.

Writing in the current issue of the Health Center Journal, quarterly bulletin published jointly by the Colleges of Medicine and Dentistry, Dr. Doan said:

"The number of applicants with at least minimum pre-medical requirements outnumber our maximum teaching facilities by seven or eight to one."

"Results of this condition are tremendous responsibility on our board of selection and subjection of a too-large number of eager, sincere and able potential physicians to an almost insupportable disappointment."

Solution, he said, would be "to associate state, federal and private funds in achieving medical progress." This, he declared, would "reduce to a minimum duplication of scarce and expensive equipment, while conserving to the maximum personnel efficiency."

Bloomington Ditch Project Gets Approval

Willis Is Instructed To Seek Bids for Dews Run Drain Job

A ditch improvement which many residents believe will alleviate some of the flood conditions in Bloomington has been approved by the County Commissioners.

County Engineer Robert E. Willis said he has been authorized by the board to advertise for bids for the extensive project on the Edwards branch of the Dews Run county ditch in Paint and Marion Townships.

The bids will be called after a required 25-day waiting period, Willis declared.

The ditch petition was filed by the board of trustees of the Presbyterian Church of Washington C. H. three months ago. Since that time the legal technicalities have been ironed out and the necessary views and hearings have been held.

Get Rid of Floods?

Whether the project actually will get rid of all floods in the Bloomington area is conjectural, one expert pointed out. But at the time of the petition filing it was said that the improvement will improve drainage of farm land through which the ditch flows and in the adjacent village. Included in the project is the following work:

Widening, straightening and re-location of the existing channel; building a headwall at the outlet of the 15-inch tile draining the church lands; tilling an open road ditch along the north side of County Road 33 from an existing 8-inch tile adjacent to the C. G. Parrett lands and within the village limits of Bloomington and ending at the tile main where it crosses the White Oak Road, and building a standard side ditch inlet at this point.

Construction of a concrete basin in the open channel about 150 feet southwest of the Dickey Road intersection where two eight-inch tile and one 12-inch tile draining part of Bloomington have their outlets.

To Cross Railroad

Extension of the 15-inch tile from its present outlet to the basin; constructing a 24-inch tile as an outlet to the basin to the northeast side of Dickey Road; replacement of the 30-inch cast iron pipe under the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad tracks with a larger structure in order to afford adequate surface drainage.

The petition as originally filed with the commissioners was signed by Chairman Charles A. Reinke and Trustees Charles Hire and Charles A. Fabb on behalf of the church, which owns land given several years ago by Erik and Mary Edwards.

Watergardens and lighted tapers graced the small tables for the serving of a dessert course Wednesday evening, when Mrs. Dwight Staats entertained her bridge club in the apartment of her sister, Miss Rose Clark.

Four tables of players progressed during the rounds of play. Club awards were won by Mrs. Eddie Miller and Mrs. Marvin Cox and the guest prize went to Miss Mary Loucaric.

Guests of the club were: Mrs. A. R. Jackson of Chicago, Mrs. L. I. Morter of Washington C. H., Mrs. Ab Collins, Mrs. Martin Curren, Miss Stella Winegar and Miss Loucaric.

Members present included: Mrs. Harold Tudor, Mrs. Willard Winegar, Mrs. F. R. Charles, Mrs. Donald Murphy, Mrs. Willard Kessler, Miss Mary Winegar, Mrs. Irvin Weller, Mrs. Thelma Pinkerton, Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Cox.

Mrs. William Coffey and Mrs. Gene Hyer were guest players with the bridge club which met Wednesday evening with Mrs. Russell Kerr.

Club members included: Miss

Mary Uhl, Mrs. Hugh DeHaas, Mrs. Frank Blaser, Mrs. William Looker and Mrs. Donald Bussard.

When scores were tallied, winning awards went to Mrs. Blaser and Mrs. Tooker. The honor gift was received by Miss Uhl.

The hostess concluded the evening by serving a dessert course.

Miss Harriett Ann Hafler, bride-elect of Charles E. Ennis, was guest of honor at an evening party given Saturday by Miss Mary Louise Hennigan and Mrs. Harry Fairley at the home of Miss Hennigan.

Contract bridge was the diversion and prizes were won by Mrs. George Pearce, Miss Alice Parker Wilson and Mrs. Delbert Walker.

A shower of lovely gifts was presented the honored guest.

The marriage of Miss Hafler and Mr. Ennis will be an event of July 29.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Pollitt, of this city, are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Helen, to Jimmie Whitley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Holt Whitley, of North Street.

Rev. J. R. McBride, pastor of the Central Church of Christ, read the single ring service June 18 in the church parlor.

The couple was attended by Misses Rosemary and Ruthanna Walker.

The bride chose for her marriage a light blue eyelet frock, and her corsage was white carnations.

The bridegroom served in the navy in World War II and graduated from McClain High School in the class of 1948.

The bride also was a graduate of McClain High in 1948.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Whitley are residing temporarily with the bride's parents.

Livestock Club Meets

The Bloomington Livestock Club held its semi-monthly meeting at the home of T. H. Parrett near Bloomington.

Mary Lou Reif was welcomed into the club as a new member. Games were played and refreshments were served by Tommie Lou Parrett.

Those present at the meeting were Jim Parrett, Bob Smith, Anna Lou Cook, John Cook, Fred Cook, K. O. Rhoades and Lloyd Davis.

THE ODD STORY OF C<sub>12</sub> H<sub>22</sub> O<sub>11</sub> (SUGAR)

Here Are Most Interesting Facts on That Sweet Commodity

NO SHORTAGE HERE—View of a Utah beet sugar warehouse shows sugar in bags ready for marketing.

By Central Press
WASHINGTON—Chemists label it "C<sub>12</sub> H<sub>22</sub> O<sub>11</sub>." The Arabs called it sukkar. We call it sugar. Everyone calls it scarce.

It was the last item in the United States on the ration list because in an ordinary pre-war year, the United States alone consumed a massive 31,680,000,000,000 (nearly 32 trillion) pounds of sugar!

Sugar was first introduced on this side of the world when Christopher Columbus planted the initial sugar cane seedlings in Santa Domingo. The crops did not produce a full yield, however, until the arrival of slaves on the plantations of the West Indies.

For a long time sugar was used chiefly as a medicant. New theories on its power to revive human energy proved to be highly effective.

About the first historical mention of sugar is brought to us in the account of Nearchus' boat ride down the River Indus with Alexander the Great's army of conquest. Nearchus, admiral of Alexander's fleet, noticed a kind of "honey-growing reed" along the river banks.

EARLY CHINESE kingdoms paid tribute in sugar cane crops.

The name sugar comes from the Arabic word "sukkar," meaning white sand.

Refining sugar is generally believed to have developed in Persia, but it was a long time before it was turned out in its present-day form. For a long period it was more in the form of a thick honey-like syrup.

When the Arabs overran Persia, in 640, they took over the manufacture of sugar and its development was in their hands.

Recognized as the first really serious chemists, the Arabs soon applied their chemical knowledge to sugar-making in Persia. When the Arabs got around to conquering Egypt, they found the field of alchemy had been developed to a high degree and filtering and clarifying processes were so much better than theirs.

Adopting and combining various methods, the Arabs began turning out what was the forerunner of today's solid sugar.

As the Arabs invaded northern Africa and into Spain and France, they took their sugar to western civilization. When the Moslems were stopped by Charles Martel, their sugar-making days began to lull.

SUGAR CUBES—Machine cuts the sugar into exact sizes for your table.

Crusaders discovered the delightful taste of sugar and took back samples and tales of this new delicacy to their homelands. Europe's people began demanding sugar. Eventually its use to sweeten coffee, cocoa and tea became widespread.

Around the year 1430, Venice was the center of the sugar refining world. Loaf sugar first made its appearance here. In 1482 sugar was quoted in London at $275 a hundredweight.

ITALIAN COMMERCE dared unknown waters seeking safer and easier trade routes in their eagerness to provide enough sugar for the market.

Napoleon spurred the interest in sugar beet refining by offering a million francs for the secret of extracting sugar from beets. France made rapid strides in the beet sugar industry as a result of this offer.

Despite the fact that man knows that sugar is composed of carbon, hydrogen and oxygen, he has never been able to produce synthetic sugar. It takes Mother Nature alone, with her abundance of sunshine, and natural resources, to give this product its proper melding.

In 1837, only two tons of sugar came into the United States from Hawaii. In 1940, more than one billion tons were shipped from there.

Bakers are the principal users of sugar, consuming about one-fourth of the total tonnage but others who find sugar essential to their existence include confectioners, commercial canneries, ice cream manufacturers, chocolate and cocoa industries, chewing gum companies, beverage firms, meat packers, tobacco curers, soap and glue manufacturers and condensed milk firms.

who worked out government freight rates with the railroads during World War II.

The witness was James E. Kilday, the Justice Department's chief of transportation, anti-trust division.

Kilday told a House expenditures sub-committee that many of the men who set multi-million dollar freight rates for the government came from the railroads and returned to their railroad posts after the war.

"Are you suggesting they were hell-bent to flim flam the government?" Asked Rep. Bender (R-Ohio), subcommittee chairman.

"It was a case of government personnel dealing with a thoroughly organized and cartelized industry," Kilday replied. He said he urged the FBI to investigate the rate-making activities of army department officers. He added:

"I recommended that they be looked into criminally."

Morale Problem Posed by Draft

Small Number of Men Lack of Enemy Cited

WASHINGTON July 8—(AP)—The limited peacetime draft to go into operation this fall poses a double-barreled morale problem for the armed services.

The first arises from the relatively small number of men to be called; the second from the absence of any identified enemy threatening imminent invasion.

An army troop information and education expert said today both of these factors are being taken into account in plans for handling the new draftees.

On the first point he noted that selective service will call up only a handful of men compared with the more than 10,000,000 inducted during the war. Thus some draftees may feel that they are being singled out when few if any of their friends are called.

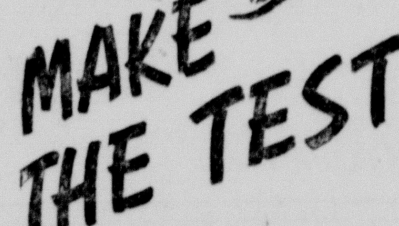

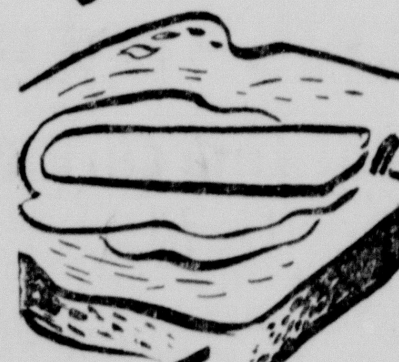

It will be the task of the information and education section to make the draftee understand why a uniform has been put on him.

As for the second difficulty in orienting the draftee to the army outlook, the expert said it is easier to get a soldier in a fighting mood when the teacher can point to a known enemy and tell the recruit what that enemy is planning to do.

Diplomatic delicacy keeps the army from being to definite about what nation or nations might be potential enemies. Sergeants will have to be a little vague about the nationality of the dummies used for bayonet practice or targets for rifle practice or grenade throwing.

In general, the draftee will get the same program of information that all troops are given, but with some of it slanted toward the inductee.

The earth's population is increasing at the rate of 1 percent annually.

Police Radio System Now in Operation

Mobile Units Speed All Emergency Calls

Use your imagination for a moment.

Suppose some arch-criminal—a peeping Tom, an arsonist or a burglar—has been seen out on Briar Avenue. A woman calls the police station excitedly to report the incident.

The desk officer flicks a switch, four red lights go on atop the Court House tower and the police patrol car—which, at this time, is far out on Washington Avenue—is thereby given "instructions" to telephone the office.

When the car gets back downtown the officers see the light. They telephone—but, because so much time has elapsed, they get out to Briar Avenue only to find the suspect swallowed up in the darkness of night.

Contrast it with this: the telephone call, the desk officer calls the patrol car on a police radio and the car speeds—right now—to the scene.

Chances are much greater that the man will be caught.

It's Now in Use

Today the Washington C. H. Police Department, the county sheriff's office and the fire department are using the latter system.

Swift, modern radio communication for emergency vehicles has come to Fayette County.

The unheralded arrival of police radio came Wednesday. Installation of new equipment was completed this week by Ohio Bell Telephone Company and has been turned over to city officials for a 30-day test period.

Paul Dougherty, commercial manager for the company, said it is the first of its type installed in territory served by Ohio Bell.

Following completion of tests, the mobile radio system will go into complete operation to furnish an important link between the central headquarters and vehicles owned by the city and county.

To Be in 10 Cars

The initial installation of mobile units covers two police cruisers and the sheriff's car. Within a short time, additional units will be added until ten mobile units are operating.

Three will be in police cruisers, three in sheriff's cars and four in fire trucks.

Control station for the new radio system is located in the city building, where transmitting and the master receiving equipment has been installed.

The antenna pole, over 30 feet tall, was hoisted to the top of the building and installed under direction of Fire Chief George R. Hall.

All units of the new system are designed to operate on a single frequency.

In the event of a fire or other disaster to the city building, any one of the mobile units could be rushed to a central location within the city and used as master control station.

In this manner the transmission of all radio messages and dispatching of traffic and orders continues in an unbroken chain even though the central control bureau in the city building might have gone out of operation.

Dramatic Possibilities

Dramatic possibilities of the new communication system are unlimited since the system will closely parallel similar installations in larger metropolitan areas throughout the country. Through car-to-car communications, as well as control bureau to car, it will be possible to concentrate as much assistance as needed to cope with an emergency.

A radio-equipped police cruiser at the scene of a serious accident could use its radio to summon medical assistance or an ambulance. It could request the assistance of additional cruisers to aid in directing or re-routing traffic around the scene of the mishap.

The area in which a crime was committed could be completely blocked off within a matter of minutes through use of radio messages from the dispatching center to all available cruisers. In this manner, more rapid apprehension of criminals is possible, such as was done recently in Xenia. Even if a criminal makes an escape from the scene of a crime, the radio system would be used to relay orders to mobile units and establish road blocks along the escape route.

Coordination Aided

Further coordination between mobile units of the police department and the sheriff's office is possible through use of the new system. Action warranting the combined efforts of both departments and the use of all available police and sheriff vehicles can be pooled through the common communication method to combat any emergency.

Equipment installed at the control bureau in the city building consists of a 50 watt transmitter and a radio receiver. An operator will be on duty there at all times to relay information and issue orders to mobile units cruising throughout the city. At the same time the operator will be available to receive messages from cruisers concerning items of interest at the moment.

The mobile installation consists of a transmitter and receiver mounted in the trunk of the vehicle, a "whip" antenna mounted on top of the car and a telephone handset mounted snugly on the dash within easy reach of the driver.

The loud speaker will be mounted under the cowl. On fire trucks the equipment will be installed in a location where it will not interfere with the operation of regular equipment.

Covers Entire Area

The transmitter itself is powerful enough so that its signal may be picked up anywhere in Fayette County and surrounding areas.

Sheriff Orland Hays and Police Chief Vaiden Long have agreed on the necessity of literally "getting in tune" with the times as far as communications are concerned.

Installation of the radio had the backing, too, of City Manager Winston W. Hill.

After plans had been drawn up, an agreement was completed with Ohio Bell whereby the system was installed and will be maintained by the company.

From now on, "Calling All Cars" won't be a hollow phrase. It can be done on the new police radio.

Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Wilson and family moved to a farm near Dolly Varden this week.

"Calling Sheriff Hays," might be what the dispatcher in the City Building was saying as the sheriff answered this call in his automobile. The sheriff has long been an ardent advocate of radio police communication, believes it will be a great step forward in Fayette County law enforcement.

Sitting in a police patrol car, Police Chief Vaiden Long hears instructions broadcast over the city-county police radio system. Long is enthusiastic about the new installation.

Officer Clifford Underwood, sitting at City Building control board, calls to a mobile unit over the new radio communication system now in operation.

Many Tourists On The Move Through County

Frequent Inquiries Made Regarding Name of This City

Great numbers of tourists are pouring through this city daily, and scores of them stop for food and refreshments, while many others remain in the city at the hotels, tourists cabins or tourist homes over night.

A few of these tourists are towing their trailers with them in order to reduce expenses and be assured of a sleeping place every night, regardless of where they are.

Many of the tourists, when they stop at service stations, restaurants, drug stores, and hotels, inquire why the "C. H." is attached to the city, and most of their questions are answered.

However there are some to whom inquiry is made, who are still in the dark as to where the "Court House" came from.

For the benefit of those who do not know, here is the little yarn once more.

Back about 1842 there were five Washington's in Ohio. Mails were becoming confused. This town was the only county seat in Ohio named Washington, so the Post Office name was changed to Washington Court House to designate it a county seat town, like Appomattox Court House and a few others in the south. The legal name of this county is still plain Washington.

Incidentally one of the other Washingtons in Ohio became Old Washington; another is New Washington; still another is Port Washington, and the fifth is Washingtonville.

This is the story in a nutshell, and it might be added once more that there are only two other towns in the U. S. still retaining the title—Cape May Court House, and Amelia Court House.

DFC Is Awarded To Navy Flyer For War Action

'Bud' Mustine Gets Medal Rarely Given To Naval Aviators

A decoration considered rare among navy fliers has been received by a Washington C. H., man.

It is the Distinguished Flying Cross, presented belatedly to Charles William (Bud) Mustine for action in the Pacific area three years ago.

The presentation could have been made to the former navy lieutenant by a high-ranking officer at a full dress ceremony. But, at his own request, the decorations arrived in the hands of another government functionary-the mailman.

Five other decorations also were received at the same time. There were four air medals, and a presidential unit citation, all awarded for service during the war in the Pacific.

Action in China Sea

The action for which the DFC was received took place in the China Sea between French Indo-China and the Philippine Islands.

Mustine, piloting a Privateer, was returning from the mainland to his land base in the islands when he came upon an armada of small vessels.

At first they looked like fishing boats, Mustine said, but he flew over the flotilla and observed Japanese soldiers aboard. At the same time as he and his crewmen discovered this, the Nips opened fire.

The Privateer had dropped its load of bombs on the outbound trip. There remained to do the job the .50 calibre machine guns and plenty of ammunition.

So Mustine flew his plane over several times and, on the official records at least, he sank eight boats and crossed 150 enemy soldiers off the active list for good. Figures are conservative.

Those figures are the official ones. Actually, the navy and other branches of the service are conservative in such estimates.

"We still had ammunition aboard the plane when we got away from there," Mustine recalled, "but we couldn't tell, of course, whether we'd run into enemy fighters on the way back."

There weren't any fighters, however, and the plane arrived safely.

Mustine, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mustine, 1116 Washington Avenue, was seriously injured in a crash during the war.

Since his discharge from the navy he has attended school at Miami University and at Ohio Northern University, Ada. He found his ambition to become a dentist blocked so will enter the teaching profession this year.

Sale of Prepaid Tax Receipts Here

Due, apparently, to busy days on the farm, sale of prepaid tax receipts in Fayette County for the week ending June 19 totaled $4,624.78 compared with $5,473.71 for the same period in 1947.

Total sales in the county up to that date, so far this year, were $132,310 compared with $107,826 for the same time last year, or $25,000 in excess of last year's sales.

Scientist Sees Dictator 'Era'

One Surviving Peace State Is Predicted

NEW YORK, July 8—(AP)—A law of growth of nations, that predicts dictators for the next 250 years, was published today by the Foundation for the Study of Cycles.

This same law indicates that after the dictators there will come a fixed, or "frozen" civilization, probably a happy one, which will slowly deteriorate.

The predictions are for the present western powers, but without naming any. The end of the happy but "frozen" civilization is foreseen when younger peoples, eager for spoils, rise to end the reign of enfeebled western powers. The younger peoples are not identified.

The title of this publication is Cycles in History, and the author, Edwin Fraden Dakin.

The scientific authority for the law of growth is the late Raymond Pearl, of Johns Hopkins University. He found that rats, pumpkins, yeast cells and nations all trace the same kind of curve in their growth.

There are three parts to this curve. One is a slow beginning, second a speed-up in growth, and third a slowed-down, quiet period. The curve is the letter S-laid on its side, with the first end pointing upward, and the whole letter stretched out from left to right. The curve is like a low plain, and a sharp rise to a plateau.

For nations, the middle part, the time of rapid rise, is when the country is expanding and strengthening in power and arts.

The predictions about western powers, that fit this growth, are those made by the German, Oswald Spengler, 20 years ago. Mr. Dakin says Spengler's ideas were considered almost monstrous, but that now they appear prophetic. Spengler predicted that one surviving state would emerge as supreme victor and impose peace on the world.

and readings were given by Donna Lucinda and Kay Gwendolyn George, talented young daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin George of near Clarksville.

Mrs. Helen Dymond Haynes of Wilmington gave an entertaining review of the book, "Happiest Of Men", by E. E. Seaton, in which the hero is a farmer.

Mrs. William D. Myers, instructor of violin at Wilmington College accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Rodger Borror, also of Wilmington, completed the program by playing a group of violin solos, after which assorted sandwiches, cookies, fruit punch and confections were served from a lace covered table, which was decorated with a water garden of sweet peas and roses, flanked by pink candles in crystal holders. Following the social hour, the group drove to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hamilton, where their large collection of antique glass and other antique pieces were enjoyed.

New Tubeless Radio Is Unveiled

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE

NEW YORK.—(AP)—A new scientific wonder, a radio set with no vacuum tubes, that plays instantly when turned on has been unveiled here.

The heart of the set is a few bits of metal, as big as match heads. These are solid, but they do the same work as intricate, conventional radio tubes.

Smaller sets seem possible. But whether they'll reach the size of wrist watches is not yet known.

The new set, shown by the Bell Telephone laboratories, does not need to warm up before it plays.

Mrs. E. C. Macey, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Glass, Carl Kemper and Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Swingley.

On Monday evening, supper guests of the Wilsons' were Mr. Wilson's uncle, Mr. John Smith of Cleveland and his mother, Mrs. Chester Bradstreet and Mr. Bradstreet.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Fisher, Mrs. Louise Hoppes, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Waddle, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fisher, Mrs. Ethel Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Miller and Ramona Graves attended the Fisher reunion at Waynesville, Sunday.

It neither lights nor glows nor produces any heat. Less juice than a flashlight runs it.

The set still is under experiment, and is not soon to be on the market. Bell scientists, who made it, have discovered a new principle of electronics, and expect this principle to have many uses in addition to radio sets.

In place of radio tubes, the set uses little metal cylinders, hollow, not much larger than the metal tips of shoe laces. At the base of each is set a match-head size bit of metal that does the new radio miracle.

This metal is one of the sort known as semi-conductors. That means the metal transmits electricity very poorly. But the metal amplifies the current running into it if the intake and the output wires are attached to the little ball at the correct spacing. This spacing is about as much as the thickness of a sheet of paper.

The wires are hair thin. They and the bit of metal at the bottom are all the tube contains. The electronic action in the piece of metal causes no known wear. The metal in the first set is germanium. Several other metals could have been used.

These bits of metal will not only amplify the same as radio tubes, but will send out radio waves. They will do most things that vacuum tubes do, and some that such tubes don't. The new gadget is called a transistor. The inventors are Doctors John Bardeen and Walter H. Brattain, working under Dr. William Shockley.

Does Stomach Gas and Bloat Make You Feel Miserable?

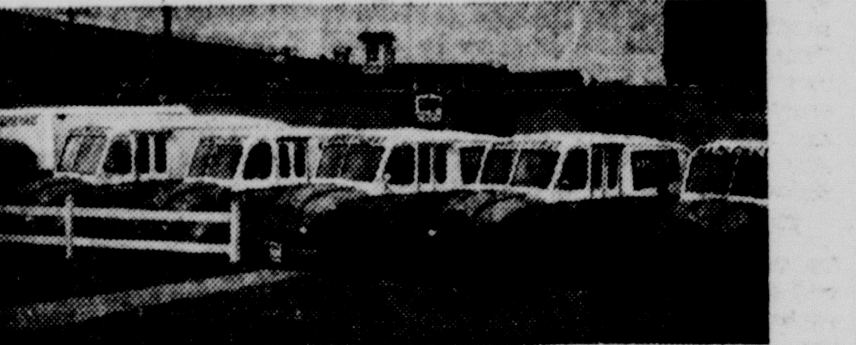

If so, here is how you may get blessed relief in freeing your stomach from this nervous distress. It works this way: Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and the frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

Avoid punishing yourself with over-doses of soda and other alkalis to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is SSS Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. Don't wait! Join the host of happy people SSS Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of SSS Tonic from your drug store today. SSS Tonic helps build sturdy health.

Navy Plans Mammoth Aircraft Carrier As Big Warships Stage Strong Comeback

By JOHN F. SEMBOWER
Central Press Correspondent
WASHINGTON, D. C. — Big Navy fans have heaved a long sigh of relief, for it is clear now to national defense planners that the Navy is here to stay!

And what a Navy it is likely to be, with gigantic new super-carriers bigger than anything man has heretofore set afloat! All the talk about huge ships being as extinct as a dodo bird in this dawning of the atomic era has been stopped cold.

The "new look" in warships is a vast "flush-decked" carrier that already is on the planning boards, and will dwarf any ship ever built before in war or peace. It will be nearly a quarter of a mile long, and 130 to 150 feet wide.

The giant's projected 65,000 tons will dwarf the present goliaths of Uncle Sam's fleet, the 45,000-ton carriers Midway, Franklin D. Roosevelt, and Coral Sea. The major objective is to project into a launching position on the high seas a floating landing field for at least twenty 100,000-pound four-engined bombers.

Known so far as simply the 6-A, everything about the ship is so wrapped up with superlatives that no one has been able to hit on a big enough name. Leading nominations are the George Washington, United States or Pearl Harbor.

The technical features of the vessel stretch the imagination, and in some respects are alarming. For instance, the Panama canal—already unable to accommodate six of the Navy's giants—is rendered all the more inadequate and old-fashioned with its 110-foot width.

Even the plans for enlarging the canal or reducing it to sea level must be re-examined in the light of this new development. There still is considerable time, however, for at peacetime rates of construction, it will take four years to build the experimental carrier.

THESE ARE NO pipe dreams though, for the Navy has the authority to go ahead with construction and $6,000,000 to apply on the first steps. This is small change compared with the $124,000,000 estimated cost. The keel soon may be laid at Newport News, or at one of the three Navy yards.

No aspect of this ship is lacking its exciting details. It will have a speed of 33 knots, which is no shuffling gait for a lady so large. Translating the knot, which is a nautical mile of 6,080.27 feet as compared with the 5,280 feet in the land mile, it is seen that the ship will hurtle along at about 40 miles an hour!

This tremendous drive is assured by the mammoth powerplant that will develop 250,000 horsepower in steam turbines generated by high-pressure high-temperature boilers. The payoff will be in the bombers that the ship will harbor, and they have not yet been designed. With the dimensions of the carrier at hand, however, the designers can figure on planes with speeds up to 500 miles an hour and radii of 1,500 to 2,000 miles. This means that they can pack atomic bombs.

They will not surpass, however, the best land-based bombers now in prospect, such as the Boeing B-50, and this has caused bitter argument here over whether to rely solely on land planes with tremendous ranges, or develop means for working the planes from floating bases far from the shores of the United States itself.

Apparently this last school of thought has come out on top. It represents a complete turning of the cycle in a few years from a widely held view that the great warship was doomed by modern

THE BIG DITCH—The Panama Canal which is already too small to accommodate some existing ships.

BIGGEST NOW—The 6-A will dwarf the Franklin D. Roosevelt (above).

conditions, to the conviction that great floatillas are needed more than ever.

The 6-A will bristle with anti-aircraft guns. It probably will carry the recently-announced guided missiles which will be rocket propelled and will ride a radio beam from 5,000 to 15,000 yards to knock down enemy planes. No dream either, these rockets are expected to be routine protective equipment by 1950.

THE GREAT FLIGHT deck will be armored, to add defensive strength. Because of the size of the aircraft to be used, the deck must be absolutely free of obstructions, or "flush."

The operating control will be located at one side of the ship. A control tower may be raised or lowered like an elevator, so as to be completely out of sight during takeoffs and landings. Elevators will hoist the big planes from below decks to takeoff positions.

Formidable as the ship promises to be, it will be very dependent upon supporting vessels which will be smaller and will specialize in handling fighter planes to protect the "queen bee" and escort bombers.

These fighters undoubtedly will be jet-propelled pushing the speed of sound itself. Present ships are seen in this role, and experiments with jet craft have been crashing into the news lately after the inevitable accidents that accompany new and different operations.

Present plans call for four of the giant supercarriers, if the initial undertaking proves successful. Obviously it will take time, perhaps a decade, to shape up a navy of such proportions.

However, the Navy people already feel more assured of themselves, for no longer are they grappling with such intangibles as designs for battleships that dive under water like submarines, and are wholly equipped with guided missiles rather than the conventional long-range guns.

They see in the plans for the supercarrier something that they can sink their teeth into and do something about right now.

Moreover, the valuable data gathered by expeditions into the Arctic and Antarctic regions convince them that they have evolved something that is wholly practical for the longest-range national defense.

Nor is any immediate challenge from any foreign power envisaged. This is a naval armament race with just one entry in it at present. Some of the veteran planners who remember the aftermath of World War I with its "treaty ships" have to pinch themselves to see if they are awake or dreaming.

SHIPS like the Salt Lake City, sent to the bottom recently in naval maneuvers after a glorious career, were developed to rigid reduced specifications. Hitler and the Germans offered their "pocket battleships" as a way to get around the naval limitations.

Then the game was to pack all the punch possible into artificially limited tonnage. Now the sky is the limit on what the ship designers can do in the light of technical information that is available.

Their answer right now is the 6-A. There has been plenty of debate over the wisdom of taking such a step, however. The salutary role played by the carrier in World War II has furnished the pattern.

Most of the naval authorities, such as Fleet Adm. Ernest J. King, former commander-in-chief of the fleet, have pointed to the classic Battle of Midway and other large-scale Pacific actions against the Japs as proof that carriers can maneuver with ghostly evasiveness into strategic striking positions. Others warn against planning for a World War III on blueprints of an earlier pattern.

All hands are agreed, however, that the days when fleets locked horns with visible enemies are gone forever. They will "see" each other only through their airplane "eyes," and the theory is that any enemy with the temerity to attack the United States may never know what hit it when the 6-A goes into action!

Ohio Will Have Headquarters In Philadelphia

Julian Makes Promise After Rep. Kirwin Decries Lack of Plans

By FRED J. ZUSY
WASHINGTON, July 8—(P)—William A. Julian, treasurer of the United States, promised flatly that Ohio will have a headquarters at the Democratic convention in Philadelphia next week.

Julian made his statement to a reporter after Rep. Michael J. Kirwan (D-Ohio) complained it was a shame that "the great state of Ohio" would have no headquarters for convention delegates.

Kirwan told newsmen it was the fault of certain wealthy party stalwarts in Ohio including Julian; Charles Sawyer, secretary of commerce; Albert Horstman, national committeeman and former state chairman, and Ray T. Miller, defeated candidate for governor in the May primary.

Kirwan said these leaders said they couldn't afford the $1,500 he estimated would be the cost of a headquarters.

Julian, treasurer for 15 years, said:

"I should weep on Mike's shoulders; we'll have a headquarters. There's plenty of time to make the arrangements."

"There'll be a headquarters and I'll be glad to see Mike there. We look after our own people and look after them very well."

Julian, about 80, is a legal resident of Cincinnati. He is a former manufacturer and bank president. Sawyer also lives in Cincinnati. Both have been prominent in state democratic politics for years.

Kirwan recently has been associated with former governor Frank Lausche in the latter's successful primary campaign for the party's gubernatorial nomination against Miller. Julian, Sawyer and Horstman were generally considered on Miller's side of the fence.

Combat Price Rises, Farm Bureau Asks

PHILADELPHIA, July 8—(P)—The American Farm Bureau federation asked the Democratic party today to pledge a new governmental attack on the problem of skyrocketing prices.

Opening hearings on the 1948 Democratic platform, H. E. Slusher, a member of the board of the powerful farm organization, proposed specifically that Congress set up a national monetary commission to find ways of stabilizing prices.

"A democracy of free enterprise cannot flourish and may not even survive continuing fluctuation of the general price level," said Slusher. He is president of the Farm Bureau in President Truman's home state of Missouri.

Thus the farm leader brought up an issue with which Democrats hope to win votes in November. Mr. Truman and other Democratic leaders have blamed the Republican Congress of swelling prices since wartime controls were dropped.

The Democratic platform drafters got off to a quiet, friendly start. But beneath it was an air of expectancy. Sharp and perhaps bitter battles appeared to be shaping up over civil rights and labor planks.

Job as Nurse Is Still Open In Health Dept.

Shortage Is Keeping Department from Its Full Efficiency

A nurse shortage is keeping the Fayette County Health Department from providing service at its full efficiency, Dr. Gordon E. Savage, health commissioner, said Thursday.

The shortage, he said, is not a "crisis." It is not causing a curtailment of vital operations nor a shutdown on overall service—but the shortage is there and must be filled if fullest efficiency is to be maintained, the doctor declared.

His statement followed an announcement that the position of public health nurse with the department is still open. It has been for the past two months, since two staff members resigned from their posts.

Since that time, one of the two vacancies has been filled by Mrs. Ruth Smith. The other one—in the areas formerly covered by Mrs. Marie Smalley—is still unfilled.

Any registered nurse is eligible produced more abundant crops this year.

Others say the abundant rainfall this year has been caused by sun spots.

Spots on Sun Rouse Temper On the Earth

PHILADELPHIA, July 8—(P)—If tempers flare and emotions are unbalanced, it may be due to the ultra-violet rays from the sun spots now nearing their maximum number and intensity for the first time in 11 years, says Dr. Roy K. Marshall, director of Fels Planetarium.

These beams of invisible energy coming from the sun 93,000,000 miles away can easily affect tempers of people, he said today.

Then too emotions are controlled by various glands of the body which readily may be disturbed by the sun's ultra-violet rays, Dr. Marshall told a reporter.

He pointed out the last time the sun spots reached their maximum frequency was in 1937 when Hitler began his plan of world conquest.

Dr. Marshall said scientists say they don't know the "why" about sun spots, but the ultra-violet rays emanating from them affect every living thing on earth.

Some scientists, he explained, contend these very short rays have produced a more prolific growth of foliage on trees and to apply for the position, according to Dr. Savage.

"Of course we would prefer someone with public health training," the health commissioner declared, "but that is not an absolute requirement."

The present health nursing staff consists of three members headed by Miss Gretchen Darlington. The others are Mrs. Margaret Cooper and Mrs. Smith.

With the opening of school due in another two months, Dr. Savage said he hopes to have all nursing positions filled and his department ready to continue its full program by that time.

Approximately 2,000,000 patents have been issued by the U. S. patent office.

RENDEL HELPS MEDINA LADY LOSE 64 LBS. IN SHORT TIME

Mrs. J. A. Gonser gets desired results with Rendel.

"Before taking Rendel, I was very overweight," writes Mrs. Gonser. "Rendel is easy to take and since taking it I have lost 64 pounds. Thanks to Rendel, I feel much better."
Hundreds of others have obtained similar relief from the social and physical discomforts of being overweight. Why not try this effective yet inexpensive method of reducing and enjoy the pleasure of feeling younger and more alive. Try Rendel and notice the admiring looks you will receive from your friends as your figure becomes younger and your vitality increases. Just go to your druggist and ask for 4 ounces of liquid Rendel. Pour the contents into a pint bottle—add enough unsweetened grapefruit juice to fill the bottle and then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it. If you aren't satisfied with the results, return the empty bottle to the manufacturer and your money will be refunded. You need never know a hungry moment while taking Rendel—no starvation diet—no printed diet list to buy—no vitamins to fortify you against weakness while going hungry, for you WON'T be hungry. Don't be switched to another product. Insist upon genuine Rendel.

Camp Meeting On Near Lancaster

The Lancaster Camp Meeting, held annually at the camp meeting grounds a short distance northwest of Lancaster, is now under way, and as usual, many Fayette Countians will attend the event.

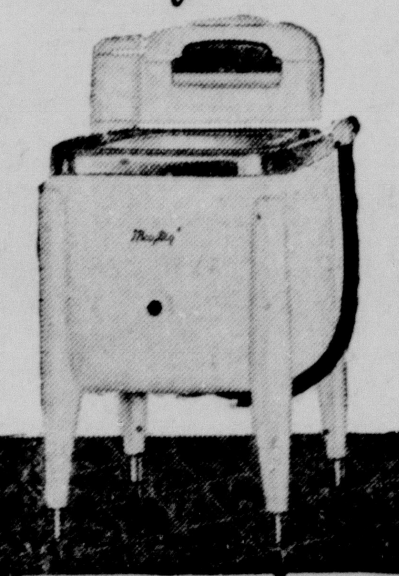

The Lancaster camp grounds association has made extensive improvements in the last few years since paying off a long-standing debt of $16,000. It has erected a 50,000 gallon water tower which will greatly improve the sanitation and give abundant supply of water for the swimming pool and add needed fire protection.

One of the most beautiful altars ever erected for out-door vespers services will be dedicated this year. It is to be known as "The Chapel in the Woods," and will have seating capacity of about 400. It is all a gift of one of the camp ground's friends of many years, Mrs. Joanna Woods. She is presenting it to the Methodist Youth Fellowship of the camp grounds.

July 10, at 7:45 P. M. there will be a concert by Miss Jane Allen and Miss Ellen Aakvik, artists of the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music.

Sunday, July 11 will be a big day with Dr. H. J. Burgstahler, Chancellor of the Ohio Wesleyan University, preaching at 10:45 A. M. Mrs. Ruth Worrell, executive secretary of the United Council of Church Women, and Dr. T. T. Brumbaugh, associate secretary of the Board of Missions and Church Extension of the Methodist Church, on both the afternoon and evening programs.

FRAGRANT FLOWER AND THE GENERAL

Happy Home Life of Chennault and His Chinese Bride

THE CHENNAULTS—The former Lord of the Flying Tigers and the Fragrant Flower take taxi ride together.

By WALTER BRIGGS
Central Press Correspondent
SHANGHAI, China—Chen Na-teh, the former Lord of the Flying Tigers, and Srung-mai the Fragrant Flower from Hong Kong made me most welcome.

So I shook hands with Gen. Claire Chennault and his wife, Anna.

Chennault, known to millions of Chinese as Chen Na-teh (The Virtuous) and his 24-year-old Chinese bride, Srung-mai (The Fragrant Flower), who has adopted the westernized name of Anna, live in a comfortable bungalow in suburban Hungjao, not far from an air field.

Srung-mai or Anna is slim, graceful, scarcely five feet tall, with pronounced cheekbones of her race and parted hair swept neatly back.

On the occasion of my visit to the Chennaults she wore a pink silk dress, buttoned at the neck and slit a bit along the legs, as is the Chinese style.

To Occidentals and many Chinese friends she is Anna. Her family name, oddly enough, is Chen—the same as her husband's. Anna calls him Claire but to most of his friends he is "The Old Man."

Chennault, leader of the American Volunteer Group—the Flying Tigers—and later the 14th Air Force, left the war to settle down in Waterproof, La., his home town. For two years he tried a quiet life in the bayou country.

CHENNAULT'S thoughts dwell on China and its skies. Finally, he and his wife agreed that she should divorce him—after 35 years of marriage.

The onetime acrobatic pilot returned to China. He established an airline to haul relief supplies to the interior and bring out export goods. "I feel that I am needed here and know that I am not especially needed in Louisiana," he has said.

At 57, Chennault has decided to spend the rest of his years here. He feels that he has come home. A few days before Christmas he made Anna a part of that home.

Anna is the daughter of a former consul-general in San Francisco. As a college student she made her way from Hong Kong into Free China. In 1943 she joined a Chinese news agency at Kunming, where she first met Chennault at a press conference. She didn't see him socially, however, until after she went to interview him when he returned to China.

She became his hostess at occasional parties and was seen with him at occasional social functions. The sudden wedding surprised all but a few close friends.

"Marriage has changed my whole habit of life," Srung-mai told me with a slight accent. "You know how night reporters love to sleep late. Well, my husband likes to be the first man in the office."

Anna is usually up first to take their dachshunds, Joe and Sandy, for a romp in the garden. The Chennaults quickly down ham and eggs over the morning papers and leave about 8 o'clock. Their chauffeur, Wang, with the general since he first came to China in 1937, drives them downtown in a Plymouth sedan.

FOR ABOUT 40 minutes they plunge through the narrow crowded streets to a tall building on the Bund along the muddy Whangpoo river.

In China women are slowly becoming emancipated. Anna is far ahead of most. Not only does she appear frequently in public and work in an office, but she works right alongside her husband. While he is busy seeing numerous callers about flights, contracts and personnel, and keeping three secretaries busy with dictation, she is helping to handle the airline's public relations.

She is translating his recently finished book manuscript, "My China Years," for publication in China.

They lunch at a nearby United States Army officers' club. Back at the office he naps for an hour on a couch. Work is then resumed. This is especially heavy now with the airline's franchise being enlarged and operations extended.

Occasionally the Chennaults drive to Hungjao airfield, where the general is in his element among planes and airmen.

When they return home Anna consults with their five servants on household affairs while the general lounges with a book or paper. Four or five evenings a week they mix socially with others, sometimes going out, often entertaining as many as 20 at dinner at home.

American generals, Chinese politicians, businessmen, air crew members are among their guests. Chennault favors Louisiana dishes, which he has taught the cook, so that gumbo soup and rice dishes appear frequently.

Chinese chow, which he also likes, sometimes is served. At his hand always sits a bottle of tabasco sauce, which he calls "Louisiana ketchup." "I tried it once," Srung-mai said, "but never again."

IF THEY are alone, Chennault takes a couple of straight whiskeys before dinner, while she sips a martini.

At dinner she tries to fill him in on what's what among the Chinese. Afterwards they often play a bit of cards. Now and then they drop into a movie. If the general doesn't like it he sometimes falls asleep. They generally turn in at about 11.

Winter Sundays the general and several cronies leave before dawn for the countryside to shoot pheasants and ducks. This summer he expects to show up frequently again at the Columbia Country club's softball diamond, where he has pitched many a hard, fast game. When it is warm Chennault, a GI mechanic's cap shading his eyes, plays badminton with friends in the backyard.

Family life is definitely fun to Anna. "He thinks I'm boss and I think he's boss," Anna said, "so we get along swell."

As we finished talking, the general appeared. He walked tall and straight in a brown business suit. Deep, rough furrows creased his browed face. I mentioned a mutual friend, an American general who had served in India.

"Oh, yes," Chennault said, "he's retired. Picked up some bug out here." He paused. "I've been lucky. Been out 10 years. Feel just as good as when I first came." Then he grinned. "Yes... even better."

Editor Is Challenged By 'Boss' Crump

MEMPHIS Tenn., July 8—(AP)—Political leader E. H. Crump today challenged Edward Meeman, editor of the Memphis Press-Scimitar, to accept an agreement by which one of them would leave town.

He called for "a showdown on this challenge." Meeman declined immediate comment.

The challenge was an outgrowth of the campaign for Democratic nomination to the U. S. Senate. Crump is supporting Judge John Mitchell. The Press-Scimitar has endorsed Rep. Estes Kefauver.

Crump asked that a chamber of commerce committee be named to investigate charges he has made against Kefauver. If they are proved false, he said, he will "pick up my hat" and leave town. Otherwise, he added, Meeman should leave.

Above is a scene from "Relentless," the number one feature at the State Theater, starting Sunday. The stars are Robert Young and Marguerite Chapman. It's just part of a double bill which features a western.

Army Cuts Tape On Applications

Reserve Officers May Seek Extended Duty

Fayette County reserve officers desiring to obtain extended active duty will have less red tape to contend with than in the past, according to an announcement by Colonel John E. McMahon, Jr., executive of the Ohio Military District with headquarters in Columbus.

In order to expedite the processing of applications, unit instructors of the Organized Reserve Corps throughout Ohio have been designed to interview the officers of the reserve. The interviewing officer for this area is Captain Earl Davis, 2 West Columbia Street, Springfield.

Interviewing officers will consider such factors as: recent occupational experience; educational experience since separation; military training or experience since separation; personal characteristics, including manner, bearing, speech, voice quality, appearance, character, and general reputation.

These factors will be reported with the recommendations of the interviewer, in addition to any other points which would be of assistance in making the final determination of acceptability of the reserve officer concerned. The final disposition of the applications will be by the adjutant general in Washington, D. C.

Accepted applicants will be recalled to duty in the grade held prior to terminal leave, it was said.

TO THE TAXPAYERS OF FAYETTE COUNTY

I am giving you below, a few facts regarding the Reappraisal of Real Estate in Fayette County.

First of all, the Laws of the State of Ohio make it mandatory upon the County Auditor in each of the 88 counties to make an appraisal of all real estate and the improvements thereon if any, at least once in every six years beginning with the year 1943. (For Reference see Section 5548, General Code of Ohio)

Second. The Laws of Ohio also make it mandatory upon THE TAX COMMISSION OF OHIO, to prescribe such general and uniform rules and regulations and issue such orders and instructions as it may deem necessary, respecting the manner of the exercise of the powers and discharge of the duties of any and all officers, relating to the assessment of property and the levy and collection of taxes. It shall cause the rules and regulations prescribed by it to be obeyed and the forms prescribed to be used. (For reference see Sec. 5624, Gen. Code.)

Third. Section 5624-2, Gen. Code, reads in part as follows: For the purpose of enforcing its rules, regulations, orders and instructions and compelling the observance and use of the forms prescribed by it, THE TAX COMMISSION OF OHIO may institute, or cause to be instituted any proceedings either civil or criminal, provided by law as a punishment for the neglect, failure or refusal to obey any lawful requirement or order made by the Commission, or as a means of preventing the violation or disobedience of such orders or compelling their enforcement. Etc.

Finally, let me say: "We will do our very best to comply with the law and, at the same time, protect the interest of every taxpayer in Fayette County."

A cordial invitation is extended to any taxpayer to call at the Auditor's Office and discuss any phase of the matter with us.

Respectfully submitted,
ULRIC T. ACTON,
FAYETTE COUNTY AUDITOR
Dated July 6 - 1948

Ferguson's State Auditors To Invade Wilson Field for Friday Evening Game

State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson is coming to town Friday evening. But he isn't going to check any books.

Ferguson—or, at least the team bearing his name—is hoping for a victory over the Recreation League all-stars of Washington C. H. in a softball game scheduled for 8:15 P. M.

Carl Noon, manager of the all-stars, has a different idea. The key members of Recreation League teams have been selected and are being primed to meet the capital gain—but, as in any all-star contest, the beforehand guesses must be based purely upon speculation.

And there was little speculation. Ferguson's Auditors team is one of Ohio's best-known diamond aggregations.

Undeclared 17 Games
Manager John Nolan and Auditor Ferguson are mighty proud of the present edition, undefeated in 17 games. Nolan says this year's unit is the best balanced since the 1939 team, which went all the way to the deciding game of the world's championship in Chicago.

Five newcomers have made a big difference in this year's club. Heading the list are two pitchers, both youngsters with plenty on the ball. One is Dick Southard, who rose to fame in the fast National League with the Columbus Nationals last season. The other is Todd McKinney, who hails from Pickaway County. Both have speed to burn and can really control the ball.

Other newcomers are Iver Boling, an outfielder, and Bob Thompson and Oat Purcell, infielders.

Holdovers Are Listed
Among the holdovers, all veterans, are Neil Murphy, who has been pitching major league softball for 12 years; Johnny Brown and Kenny Andrick, two experienced catchers; Bill "Shorty" Kiarman, 6'7" first sacker; Lawrence "Wheaties" Whalen, former Columbus Red Bird, who handles the shortstop duties; Henry "Chick" Cullen, a top ranking third sacker who fielded with the best in the National League last season; Emil Almay and Tommy Kitzos, two outfielders with plenty of ability in the field and at the bat.

The Auditors play in one strong Columbus league in addition to traveling a heavy week-end schedule. The team won its first 23 games and are still going along at that pace.

The all-stars of Washington C. H. include Jack and Frank Reno of DP & L; Gordon Shaw, Steele, McGinnis and Hobbie from Universal Auto; Wally Noon, Westendorf, Mark, Bob Allen, Butterbaugh and Ginter from the Hughey Legion; Carl Bandy from Pennington's and Ebert and Stinson from Drake's.

The preliminary game, starting at 7:30 P. M., will be between the DP & L and the Jeffersonville State Auditors.

Two Ex-Champs Enter Ohio Golf Tournament

EAST LIVERPOOL, July 8—(P)—Lee Worsham of Pittsburgh and Billy Burke of Cleveland, two former national open champions, have entered the East Liverpool Country Club's second annual pro-amateur golf tournament here July 21.

Pairings will be made next Wednesday.

XENIA BUDGET UP

XENIA—The 1949 budget will be increased by reason of $9,000 in salary boosts granted employees.

READ THE CLASSIFIED ADS

The Nineteenth Hole

Mrs. George Severs Wins Flag Day Event With Three Others Not Very Far Behind

Mrs. George Severs was the grand winner of the flag day tournament at the Country Club.

Tony Capuana, the pro, announced the results of the week-end tourney which saw many golfers wandering around carrying flags imprinted with mysterious numbers.

Those numbers, Capuana explained, represented the total of "par plus the golfer's handicap."

Golfers teed off as usual and just kept going around the greens until they completed the number of strokes equal to the number on the flag.

There they planted the banner and waited for others to try to outdo them. The person who went the farthest in the set number of strokes was the winner—and that was Mrs. Severs.

Three other winners were Paul Cameron, Charles Dunton and Glen Roseboom. All will receive prizes from the pro.

Here are where other golfers ended up:

Frank Baker, No. 9 hole; Bill Junk, No. 1 fairway; Dr. Bowen Carter, in trap on No. 9 hole; Harold Miller, on No. 9 green; Brad Johnson, 30 feet from No. 1 hole; Dr. J. H. Persinger, in cup on No. 9 hole.

Stan Hagerty, on No. 9 green; Joe Campbell, in No. 9 fairway; Dave Pitts, on No. 9 hole; Harold Thomas, three feet from No. 9 hole; Lawrence Thomas, 265 yards on No. 1 fairway; Dr. Joseph Herbert, same as Thomas; Bud Schule, in front of No. 9 green.

"Babe" Maddux, 25 feet from No. 1 green; C. R. VanZant, in cup on No. 9; Bob Wehr, two feet from No. 9 hole; John Luftbrow, 15 feet from No. 1 cup; Eugene Heath, No. 1 green; Paul Cameron, 150 yards down No. 2; Dr. L. L. Pumphrey, No. 1 hole; Eugene McClain, in hole on No. 9.

Baldwin Rice, on No. 9 green; Dr. Charles Piersick, same as Rice; Joe Waddle, in No. 9 hole; Jim Hutton, in trap on No. 9 hole; Glen Roseboom, 225 yards down No. 2; Bill Himmelsbach, on No. 9 green; Forrest Ellis, on No. 9 cup.

Dr. Bob Hagerty, six inches from No. 1 hole; Bob Miller, 15 feet from No. 1 green; Lou Tannehill, over No. 1 green; Charles Dunton, in cup on No. 1 hole; P. J. McCormick, 15 feet from No. 1 hole; Dr. Fred Woodard, 275 yards down No. 1 green; "Dutch" Rife, 10 feet from No. 1 hole; and Mrs. George Severs 60 yards from No. 2 green.

Drakes Win From Morton

Drake's Produce softball team from New Holland pulled themselves into second place Wednesday night at Wilson Field when they handed the Morton Showcase crew a resounding 12-1 thrashing. The game was the only Recreation League game scheduled.

Bob George, Drake's pitcher, almost had a no-hitter tacked to his record. Schwaigert, Morton's pitcher, ruined George's chances in the sixth inning after one out had been made. Schwaigert's single over the shortstop was followed a little later by another single by Henry, Morton's shortstop.

The DP & L team will have an opportunity Friday night to move into a tie for second place with Drake's when they play the Jeffersonville Merchants. Drake's have finished their playing in the first round.

Reds Beat Cubs With Long Hits

Dodgers Climbing On 6-Game Streak

By JOE REICHLER
(By the Associated Press)
The Redlegs of Cincinnati, playing their best ball in recent weeks, got help from an unexpected quarter yesterday as they coasted to their third straight victory.

Chicago's Andy Pafko, National League all-star third sacker, uncorked two wild throws and shortstop Roy Smalley booted an easy grounder to give the Reds five unearned runs in the first inning, and from there it was a breeze as they trounced the Cubs 10-3.

Ewell Blackwell, the only Cincinnati on the all-star squad, took the mound against the Cubs today for the finale of a two-game set. Bob Rush was his opponent.

The errors by Pafko and Smalley, along with a base on balls and Augie Galan's single, counted two Cincinnati runs. Shortstop Virgil Stallcup promptly singled home two more markers and catcher Ray Lamano drove in another before Hank Borowy relieved Cub starter Bob Chipman, preventing further scoring.

The Cubs got one run back in their half of the first, but the Reds' fleet rightfielder, Frankie Baumholtz, clubbed an inside-the-park homer in the fourth to extend the Redleg lead. Three more Rhinelanders came home in the fifth on Pafko's third error and three hits, including Danny Litwiler's homer and a triple by Ted Kluwe.

The Cincinnati's rounded out their scoring in the eighth on Bobby Adams' double, a passed ball and an infield out.

Three, sixth inning hits, one of them Pafko's second double, gave the Cubs their final markers off Kenny Raffensberger, who went the route for his fifth win as against three defeats.

The latest Brooklyn march not only enhanced the Dodgers' chances to retain their National League championship, but may have halted, for the time being at least, rumors that Leo Durocher is on the way out as manager.

It is no secret that Durocher must make a good showing this year or quit.

Meanwhile, the Dodgers find themselves in the best position they've been all season. Last night's 4-3 victory in 11 innings over the Boston Braves at Ebbets Field left them in fifth place, only a game behind the first division New York Giants. They trail the pace-setting Braves by six and a half games, but are only four games behind in the important losing column.

The Cleveland Indians maintained their slim 10-percentage point bulge on the Philadelphia Athletics in the American League race by trouncing the Chicago White Sox, 10-2. Bob Feller hurled his ninth victory for the tribe, pitching shutout ball after the first inning. The cellar-dwelling White Sox rapped Feller for two runs on three hits in the first inning.

Castoff Making Good

Hank Majeski, a Yankee cast-off, was the big gun for the A's. The hard-hitting third baseman, whalloped a home run and triple to drive in three runs against his former mates. Tommy Byrne was the victim.

Trailing 2-6, the Washington Senators suddenly came to life with a five-run rally in the top of the ninth to nip the Red Sox at Boston, 7-6. Manager Joe McCarthy who started with Boo Ferriss, used five pitchers in a frantic attempt to halt the Nats.

Hal Newhouse became the first Detroit pitcher to twirl a shutout this season when he blanked the St. Louis Browns, 6-0, for his 12th victory. He has lost six.

Pittsburgh moved past St. Louis into second place in the National League by defeating the Cardinals, 2-1. The Pirates scored the tie-breaking run in the top of the ninth when Wally Westlake followed Ralph Kiner's double with a run-producing single. The Pirates, who boast a half length lead over the Cards, now trail the Braves by 2½ games.

Larry Jansen limited the Philadelphia Phillies to two hits in pitching the New York Giants to a 7-0 triumph. He had a no-hitter until Richie Ashburn scratched an infield hit in the seventh. Johnny Mize collected four hits off Curt Simmons.

League game and the fans "be given an opportunity to make voluntary contributions to the Olympic fund."

Trautman said he took the action after learning that the United States Olympic committee might be forced to leave at least 70 qualifiers at home because of lack of money.

Four Dawes Brothers

Good Hope's Baseball Quartet Does a Job To Help Keep Team on Top of the League

Bidding for the title of Fayette County's most baseball minded brothers are the four Dawes boys who play on Tom Smalley's Good Hope baseball team.

Kenneth, the eldest, lives near Rock Mills and is employed by the Dayton Power and Light Company. The other three, Bob, Charles, Jr., and Dale, operate a farm near Jamestown with their father.

The brothers, who formerly lived between Rock Mills and Greenfield, turn out every Sunday afternoon when the Good Hope team plays a regularly scheduled game in the Southwestern Ohio Baseball League.

Pitching Staff
Two of the brothers, Kenny and Bob, make up Smalley's pitching staff, while the other two, Charles and Dale, take their places in center and right field.

The boys are good in the statistical end of baseball according to their manager, Tom Smalley. The two pitchers have had batters before them 401 times this season and have allowed 75 hits and 57 runs—three of which were home runs. They have 76 strikeouts to their credit and have walked only 15 men.

The boys in the field haven't done so badly either. Charles, in center field, has caught 16 of the 17 fly balls which have come his way this season and Dale, right field, has caught 12 of the 14 that batters have hit out his way.

5,000,000 Car Goal, Aim of Auto Industry

Hopes to Double Production in First Six Months of 1948

By DAVID J. WILKIE
DETROIT, July 8—(AP)—The car industry expects to build two and one-half million more cars and trucks in the six months ahead. The program is not only a hope but should be realized barring a major work stoppage in one of the "big three" companies of General Motors, Ford and Chrysler, or several of the smaller concerns.

The industry came through the year's first six months with an output of more than 2,500,000 vehicles. It achieved this volume despite a 17-day shutdown of Chrysler plants, stoppages in all GM plants of two weeks or more and the halting of Ford operations for model change-overs.

The car manufacturers, of course, do not expect any more serious stoppages, although an increased production tempo probably would make it possible to absorb some minor suspensions. They are, always, concerned about their steel supply.

A number of strikes in supplier plants also contribute to the automobile makers' worries. But these worries have been present ever since the end of the war and production has been mounting steadily. Last year the factories turned out approximately 4,800,000 cars and trucks and they appear certain to reach 5,000,000 this year.

Yet the backlog of unfilled orders still is higher than at any time since the war. The figure 6,000,000 now is most commonly used in appraising the total of unfilled new car orders. But even if the figure is a bit high the factories are far behind their demand and the dealers generally have more orders on their books than they can fill for many months.

Latest word regarding new models is that the new 1949 Nash line will appear some time in October. The Nash plants probably will close late in August for the change-over. Best guesses are that the switch will take from three to four weeks.

One or two of the General Motors divisions probably also will be in 1949 model work by October. Kaiser-Frazer also is doing some new model preliminary work. It is understood to be planning a new hard-top convertible, for presentation later this year.

Paper work on virtually all the 1949 models was completed long ago. In many instances the tools and dies are nearing readiness. The scheduled production of current models, however, is yet to be attained.

The car makers did produce a large volume of vehicles during the first six months of the year but the proportion of passenger cars was not as large as had been expected. So there will be some delay in bringing out 1949 cars until current model output catches up with the parts and sub-assemblies the industry has contracted for with its suppliers.

The 2,500,000 vehicles turned out between Jan. 1 and July 1 this year included about 1,800,000 passenger cars. About 125,000 of these were shipped to foreign markets.

Deer Is Captured In Soda Fountain

PORTLAND, Me., July 8—(AP)—A deer was captured today behind the soda counter of a department store in the heart of Portland's business district.

Hundreds of early morning shoppers saw the terrified fawn race up Congress Street and crash through the glass door of the F. W. Woolworth Company.

Police Detective Donald H. MacDougall, a veteran hunter, made the bag. He leaped over the department store gounter and tackled the animal as it started down an aisle toward the glassware counters.

CHAPTER THIRTY-ONE

"HEAR you got an offer for your place already," Eph said. "Now, how could you know that?" Andrew demanded, intrigued, as always, by the way in which news traveled in this country.

"That's simple. Fellow by the name of Sayre is staying at the Lodge. He comes back all of a sudden yesterday afternoon, sayin' he's found a darn of a place, only the fellow won't sell. Jed says, 'That so?' and Sayre says, 'Stubborn young coot by the name of Paulson. I've made him a good offer, too.'"

"And Jed told you," Andrew filled in the picture.

"Oh, my, no. Jed didn't tell nobody, but Maggie heard it, and she told Alec at dinner—he was eatin' at the Lodge 'cause Mrs. Priest went to Hanover to visit some friends—and Alec told the woman who cleans the office, and she told my sister-in-law. At least, that's the way I figure it."

Andrew was no longer listening. If Alec had known, he had probably mentioned it to Joan. He wondered what Joan thought of it. Would she think he was justified now in having spent all that money on the place, since it had become such a desirable property? Or would she see only the fact that he had refused to sell, and think the worse of him for it?

"What everybody's wonderin' now is—what did he offer you for it?" Eph wanted to know.

Andrew answered him almost absently. "Ten thousand." "Ten thousand?" For once, Eph's ready tongue deserted him. He was dumb with surprise. "And you just finished with it a mite over a week? Why, that's double your money, Andy!"

"I know... But it's my home, and I don't want to sell it."

Eph's glance was a comical mixture of understanding and irritation. "Course you don't. But it ain't as if you'd been living there for a couple of generations."

And that, Andrew decided, heading toward home, was probably the consensus of local opinion. He was certain it would be Joan's too. The blue Buick was waiting for him when he came in sight of his house, and Oden Sayre was sitting on the doorstep. In common courtesy, Andrew could not leave him there. "Come on in," he said. "You'll catch cold out here. There's still plenty of chill in the ground."

Sayre rose stiffly. "I guess you know why I'm here," he said without preamble. "I want to know if you've changed your mind."

"No, I haven't," Andrew said firmly, despite the doubts which were beginning to gnaw at his confidence.

"Well," the older man sighed, "then I suppose I'll have to raise my offer. How about twelve thousand, five hundred?"

As Andrew started to shake his head, Sayre held up his hand. "No, wait. I'm not done yet. I realize what you said about its being your home, and when I got to thinking things over last night at the Lodge, I realized, too, that you probably couldn't find another place and get it fixed up in time for winter. Besides, if you did, you'd be losing your summer's farming. So I'm prepared to augment my offer. I'll pay you a thousand dollars flat for the crops you'll lose by the sale. I think that's generous enough, since I hear you're new at the game. And I'll let you live in the place, rent-free, from the time I and my family leave in September until we come back next June. That means you'd only have to board this summer, and you'd have the opportunity to make a place to look around for another place."

He had spoken rapidly, so that Andrew could not get a word in. Now he paused, somewhat breathless. Andrew said, "Your offer is very generous, but—"

"Wait! There's something else I want to say, and it's this. I'm a business man, and it seems to me that it's a criminal waste of talent for an architect like you to go into farming. If you can take an old place like this, and—with comparatively little expenditure—turn it into such an attractive place that an old codger like me is begging you to sell it, you should keep on in the same line. Do it with other houses. Oh, I'm discounting the fact that you have some magnificent furniture and rugs, and your place looks like a million dollars. I'm talking about the house alone. You could do it. Surely you could find another old farm and remodel it for a good profit... There's where your future lies, young man—not in the soil!"

Andrew was thoughtful. "I'll admit," he said at last, "that this very idea had occurred to me after your visit yesterday. And it is perfectly sensible. What's more, I did sell this place, because I wouldn't have any capital unless I did. But this house means more to me than you may think..."

He was silent a long while, then he said with a sigh, "Well, I'll promise to think it over, at any rate."

That satisfied Sayre, and he went away in a cheerful frame of mind. Andrew, however, was in a state of real mental agitation. Everything that Sayre had said was true. If he took the twelve and a half thousand—thirteen and a half, really, with that extra thousand for his farm profit—and invested it in his architectural ability, he was sure that he could start himself on a career which would be fascinating and profitable as well. And one which was certainly in line with his training and desires. But how would it make him look to Joan? That was the question, really. Would she think him a ridiculous turncoat, who was eager to be a farmer one day, and even more eager to go back to architecture the next?

Well, he sighed, there was one way to find out. He got in the car and drove to town.

Joan was at work at her desk. She wore an apple green cardigan which made her skin look rosy, and her hair had dancing lights in it. She looked up at him when he entered and there was a question in her eyes.

Andrew hooked one leg over the corner of her desk. "Joan, I want to ask you a straight question... I've got an offer of twelve and a half thousand for my place, an extra thousand for my hypothetical crop this year, and the chance to live in the house rent-free this coming winter, if I haven't found another place." He watched her eyes widen incredulously as he recited all this. "Should I take it?"

"Why, Andy, of course you should. It's—it's wonderful. Think what that means! You'd have more than doubled your money, you'd have money to work with—some real capital—and you'd have the fun of living there all winter, anyhow."

"In other words," he said steadily, "you think anybody'd be a fool to turn it down?"

Surprisingly, her eyes fell. "I wouldn't want to say that." She was hesitant. "You've made it so beautiful, and you really love the house."

Andrew took a deep breath. This was what he had really been waiting for, he knew now. He said, almost gaily, "It's a deal then! I'll go over to the Lodge and leave word for Mr. Sayre."

He got up to go, and Joan reached out to touch his arm. "Oh, Andy, I hope you're not doing this just on my say-so. Suppose you regret it! I wouldn't want—"

He put his hand over hers, with the feeling that he was making a pact with her. "I won't regret it," he said slowly. "Not now..."

The next few days were full of appalling activity. Oden Sayre, as happy as a boy with a new top, was out at the house most of his waking hours. He even ate Andrew's cooking without demur.

And Andrew's cooking definitely suffered from the excitement. So much had to be attended to. Andrew agreed to leave the refrigerator in place for the summer, since he would not be needing one. It was small for a family of three, "but we'll just buy closer," Mr. Sayre said, grateful to have it.

'Reactionaries' Swing Behind Tito in Yugoslav-Russ Breach

BELGRADE, July 8—(AP)—Yugoslavs are witnessing a strange phenomenon today: The Belgrade "reactionary" is swinging behind Marshal Tito.

Yugoslavia's fierce national pride has been strung by the taunts of Moscow and the Cominform. As a result, Titoism, which may prove to be the Yugoslav's own peculiar brand of Communism, is spreading. This new word is catching on outside the country too.

The Belgrade "reactionary" always has represented the formerly well-to-do people who wanted no part of Communism. Now he is saying "I'm for Tito." Two weeks ago this would have been an unheard of thing among the stubborn opponents of the Tito regime. Now, with the Communist information bureau accusing Tito of straying away from Leninism, it is not so strange.

The effects of recent events upon the peasants and ordinary working people also are quite apparent. Many of the every-day people of this country have been bitter enemies of Communism and its threat of collectivization of the land.

But they prefer Tito's brand of Communism to Moscow's, because Tito is a Yugoslav. They view the charges by the Cominform as foreign intervention.

London Prison Farm Superintendent to Stay

COLUMBUS, JULY 8—(AP)—Supt. W. F. Amrine of the London Prison Farm will delay his retirement, slated for June 30, for one year, it was announced today by the state welfare department.

The department reported that the retirement had been postponed in order to allow more time for selection of a successor.

33 Post Office Employees Here Get Wage Boost

28 Will Receive $450 More Per Year as Rates Are Upped

Under a bill just signed by President Truman, 28 regular employees of the Washington C. H. Post Office will receive salary increases of $450 per year, and five other employees will be raised 25 cents an hour.

The new law provides such pay to all regular and part time employees in the postal service in the nation.

At the post office here the regular employees who receive $450 increases includes Postmaster W. E. Passmore as well as all of the others holding regular jobs.

The little "joker" in the measure provides for substantial increases in certain postal rates.

The measure grants permanent increases of $450 a year to approximately 478,000 postal employees and $330 to about 840,000 classified civil service workers.

Post office workers paid on an hourly basis (such as substitute clerks and carriers) are raised 25 cents an hour.

The temporary allowance of seven cents per mile for rural mail carriers is made permanent.

The new law also gives special messengers 90 cents an hour, instead of 75, for use of their automobiles, and raises fourth class postmasters 25 percent. The pay of these postmasters ranges from $250 to $1400.

Civil service employees paid at an hourly rate are raised 20 cents an hour.

The pay raises are effective as of July 1.

The same bill provides boosts of several postal rates, to become effective next Jan. 1.

Air mail letters will be 6 cents an ounce, compared to the present 5 cents.

All third class services are increased two cents a pound, and fourth class about 28 percent. Postage on catalogs is increased 40 percent.

A special air mail rate of 4 cents will be provided for postcards. They now go for 5 cents.

Postage for books is raised to four cents a pound for each additional pound.

The special handling fee is increased five cents a parcel, special delivery is upped from 13 cents per letter to 15, the fee for money orders is boosted about 50 percent, and the fee for postal notes is raised from five cents to eight.

The registered mail fee is about 25 percent higher, insured mail is upped about 25 percent, and C.O.D. about 20 percent.

Sheridan Cafeteria Has Changed Hands

For the second time in three weeks, Sheridan's Restaurant has changed hands.

And, again for the second time, it was described as "a friendly family transaction."

Lawrence Sheridan, who has been associated with his brother, Lee, in operating the downtown cafeteria, has sold his entire share of the business to Lee.

Lawrence will return to his real estate brokerage business in Springfield, leaving Lee sole owner and manager of the Washington C. H. establishment.

Only three weeks ago, Lee and Lawrence bought out the share of the restaurant owned by a third brother, Harold Sheridan.

Under the present arrangement, Lee is sole owner both of the Springfield and Washington C. H. restaurants. The Springfield establishment is being operated with a manager in charge.

Sheridan's Restaurant is located at 206 East Court Street.

June 24 Is Set As 'Safe' Date For Guardsmen

Enlistments After That Date Won't Exempt from Draft

Men who enlisted in the Fayette County company of the national guard or other organized reserve units prior to midnight, June 24, will be exempt from the draft.

But merely joining the organizations won't be enough, Secretary of Defense James Forrestal warned Thursday in Washington.

To remain draft-exempt, organized reservists must not miss more than one out of 10 drill periods.

Such drill periods are held regularly by Company M, 166th Infantry Regiment, in the Army in Washington C. H. Weekly drills are held throughout the year until the authorized number runs out, and in addition a two-week camp period has been scheduled for mid-August at Camp Atterbury, Ind.

The draft act passed by Congress said that enlistment in reserve organizations with regular training schedules would make them exempt, but the law didn't specify exactly what those units should be. It left the definition up to the secretary of defense.

After consulting with experts of the army, navy and air force, Forrestal has issued a memorandum to the services. In substance, it said this:

If a man was a member of an organized reserve unit by midnight of June 24—the day the bill became law—and the unit had at least 35 scheduled drills a year, or training periods equivalent to that, he is exempt from induction. But there must be "satisfactory participation" by the reserve member. If his absence from drill exceeds 10 percent, he will become eligible for the draft once inductions get underway around late September.

Men who were members of federally recognized national guard units, either ground or air organizations, by midnight of June 24, will be exempt.

Stroke Is Fatal To George Manmiser

George Manmiser, 83-year-old retired stock dealer and prominent resident of Sabina, died at 8:30 A. M. Thursday at his home on North Howard Street in Sabina.

Mr. Manmiser had been in good health until a week ago when he suffered a stroke.

Although he had been retired for a number of years from business activity, Mr. Manmiser continued ownership of large tracts of land in the Sabina district.

Survivors are his widow, Mrs. Mary E. Manmiser, six nieces and three nephews.

Funeral services will be held at 2 P. M. Sunday at the late residence with Rev. F. F. Hubbell in charge.

Interment will be in Sabina Cemetery, under direction of the Littleton Funeral Home. Friends may call at the late residence after 8 P. M. Thursday.

Court House Cannon Has a Young Visitor

The Court House cannon had a visit Wednesday afternoon from a younger cousin.

But the visitor turned up its nose—its barrel, that is—at the older relic. The Court House gun is a German one, one of the horse-drawn relics of Kaiser Wilhelm's forces in World War I.

And the visitor? It was a truck-drawn 105-millimeter howitzer, a comparatively small "cannon" which packs a mighty wallop. It can lob shells about eight miles, and is used in direct support of infantry troops.

The visitor was a piece of equipment from the 134th Field Artillery Battalion, 37th Division, of the Ohio National Guard. Its "escorts" had stopped for dinner and parked the gun in front of the First National Bank.

Charlie Godfrey Rites Held Here Wednesday

Funeral services for Charlie Godfrey were held at 10:30 A. M. Wednesday at the Klever Funeral Home with Rev. Allan W. Caley of Grace Methodist Church in charge.

Rev. Caley read the scripture, offered prayer, delivered the sermon. Mr. and Mrs. Laris Hard sang two hymns, "Abide with Me" and "Goodnight, Good Morning," with Mrs. Lydia Rumer at the piano.

Burial was in the family lot in Madison Mills Cemetery. Pallbearers were Forrest Smith, Sterling Fox, Donald Harper, Scott Campbell, Roy Garrison and A. E. Stookey.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 16 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

UNDER ARREST in Oakland, Cal., for pumping bullets into the home of her ex-boy friend are Janice Sharon Smith, 18, and Mark Anthony Smith (left), no relation to Janice. Police said Janice told them she wanted to "get even" with Harold Hudson for implicating her on morals charges involving two Oakland police officers. Hudson left for Los Angeles three weeks ago and thus escaped three rifle attacks, police said. Smith, married and a father, planned a divorce so he could wed Janice, according to police.
